

Orland Milk Maid Breaks Milking Record At Pure Milk Picnic

A 19 year-old Orland township milkmaid broke the world's record in a milk maid contest at the Pure Milk Association picnic held at the Frankfort Grove Monday. She milked a prized Holstein cow and produced 21.8 pounds of milk in three minutes, believed to be a world's record.

The champion milk maid was Miss Mabel Bettenhausen, daughter of Mrs. Amelia Bettenhausen of Orland township. The cow was "Bell," owned by Arthur Geuther Frankfort township farmer.

Nine pretty milk maids lined up with their cows at the start of the fourth annual race. They were allowed two minutes to "get acquainted" with the milk producers and with the word "go", all got to work with a vim and a vigor that would have made the average city girl, had any endeavored to keep up the pace, topple in a dead faint. At the end of the three minute round Miss Mabel's pail was filled to the brim with Bell's wholesome milk, and, as the judges gathered the pails from the maids preparatory to weighing them, Bell calmly munched her cud.

Finishing second to Mabel was Miss Ethel Lauffer also of Orland township who drew 18.7 pounds. Miss Emma Gate, of Jackson placed third with 13.3 Rose Bormet of Frankfort fourth with 12.3 and Hulda Buchmann, Manhattan the last of the contestants to finish in the money with 11.5. Other competitors were Nadine Davis of Channahon, Lorretta Erickson, Mokena; Antonette Mathers, Wheatland and Laura Bachmann, Hulda's sister.

Miss Bettenhausen will be taken on a two day trip to the world's fair with all expenses paid by the Pure Milk Association.

The 21.8 pound record established by Miss Bettenhausen shatters the world's championship mark made by Lorraine Jennings of Channahon township at the Pure Milk association gathering at St. Louis in 1931 when she drew 20.25 pounds in 3 minutes. So far as is known Monday's record stands as the world's best. At the national contest held last Saturday at the Chicago fair grounds, Valio Henry of New York won first place with a draw of 16 pounds, six ounces.

Between 5,000 and 6,000 persons, farmers and dealers affiliated with District 13 of the Pure Milk Association and members of their families, attended the outing. The principal address of the day was delivered by Lowell Oranger, Chicago, market manager of the association, who reviewed the activities of the organization during the past year. Howard Klett of Elwood and John Cryder of Plainfield, assisted by district officers of the association were in charge of the picnic.

The crack 50 piece Tinley Park Community band under the direction of Art Weissner, made a big hit with a spirited band concert presented during the afternoon. When night fell the picnickers, old and young alike, proceeded to the dance pavilion where they danced until chore time Tuesday morning. The dance was sponsored by the Frankfort-Mokena local of the Pure Milk Association.

A kittenball tournament staged as a part of the gathering was won by the Mokena team, which defeated Orland 5 to 4 in the final game. Other teams taking part were: Matteson, Manhattan, Joliet, Plainfield, Wilmington and Tinley Park.

Contests were held for the children and grownups with prizes donated by various merchants doing business in the district. Results: slipper kicking contest, Miss Coppelman, first, Mrs. Bartling, second; rolling pin throw, Mrs. Albert Horn, first and Mrs. Robert Hertzog and Mrs. Clark Odell, second place tie; race for children under 10 years, Wilbur Morgan, first, Walter Munson, second; race for children fifteen and under won by Glen Knak; free for all race, Robert Budding, first, Edgar Mason, second; husband calling contest, Mrs. Ay Chilling, first, Mrs. Albert Horn, second; nail driving contest, Mrs. Albert Horn, first, Mrs. A. B. Knut, second; cow calling contest, Harold Brown, first, and Lloyd Cryder, second; hog calling contest, D. Walker, first and Harlow Jungles, second.

Judges in the milking contest, which always features the association's annual picnic, were: John Haecker, Clarence Spangler, Ray Goist and Fred Lauterbach of Plainfield; Andrew Swanberg, Manhattan; Peter Haas, New Lenox; Fred Wilhelm, Joliet; Elmer Newton, Orland and Al Shelling, Orland.

There was one judge to a contestant.

Taxes Delinquent on 25,000 Pieces of Will County Property

Will County taxing bodies are hit by the failure of the tax money coming in and it is a question as to how the villages, townships and schools will function. So far there are 25,000 delinquent pieces of property in the county.

According to Herbert Jones, the county treasurer, the Rock Island, Chicago & Alton roads have not paid their taxes, nor the sanitary

Rock Island Plans

New 54 Ride Rates

Beginning the first of September the Rock Island expects to put a new individual 54 monthly rate in effect between Chicago and stations from Tinley Park to Joliet inclusive, the contemplated rates will be as follows:

Tinley Park	$ 9.70
Summit	10.70
Mokena	10.70
Hickory Grove	11.60
Gillett	11.60
New Lenox	11.60
Gougars	11.90
Pilcher's	11.90
Joliet	11.90

Mokena People See

Tragic Accident

Mrs. Harry Schoen and children who left last Wednesday for Egan, South Dakota to visit with relatives, witnessed a serious accident in Iowa when the fast Rock Island passenger train they were on hit a truck between Livermore and Bode, Iowa and the driver of the wrecked truck was burned to death in the cab of the truck. The train was delayed an hour and twenty minutes by the accident.

Takes 1242 Strokes

To Blow up Tube

A very interesting tire test was held at the Mokena Motor Sales garage Saturday afternoon when a contest took place in which each contestant was asked to guess how many strokes of an ordinary hand pump would be required to blow up an inner tube. N. Robinson of Midlothian guessed 1300 strokes but the tube blew up at 1242 strokes. The second closest guess was Jack Christenson of Mokena with 1104 strokes. Mr. Robinson received a super quality inner tube as a prize. Edward Heitsch was the official pumper.

A good sized crowd witnessed the demonstration.

Echoes from The Past

Miss Turner went to Chicago Monday.

Mr. Schweser spent Monday in Chicago.

Mr. Holmes, of Spencer, called here last Thursday.

Mrs. Tonn and Mrs. Gottleib spent Saturday in Joliet.

Ask the school ma'ams what a crooked pin can catch?

Misses Fannie Barnes and Ida Kinniry spent Friday in Chicago.

Messrs. Wm. and Chas. Stall, of Joliet, Sundayed with their parents.

Miss Emma Hirst is visiting with her cousin, Miss Emma Munger, since Sunday.

Mrs. Noble Jones entertained her daughter, Mrs. Stevens, of Chicago, Thursday last.

Miss Emma Kohlhaugen, of Frankfort, called here Sunday. Miss Emma Kister returned with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Klinklebeck, of Chicago, visited at the home of Jake Marti Sunday and Monday.

Jake Weber, Mrs. Frick and family, Mrs. Munger, Mrs. Turner and daughter, and Miss Alice Bradley, went to Joliet Saturday.

Messrs. Francis and Robert Miller are back from the west. At present they are spending their time between home and the Fair.

Henry Stellwagon and Miss Jennie Hatch went to the Fair Thursday; also, Ed Maue, his sisters, Misses Amelia and Ida, and Maggie Schweser.

The woods are the favorite resort for the young these bright autumnal days and they take advantage of them. The party that went nutting report having had a good time.

Among those that helped swell the crowd on Manhattan jay at Chicago were Mrs. Leiss and her two sons, John and Jake, Messrs. Hatch, Wirsch, Houk, Rinke and Mr. and Mrs. Hanson.

While Mrs. Zahn and her brother were going to Frankfort last Saturday evening a part of the harness gave away and the horses started for a mad career. As they turned the corner by the school house Mrs. Zahn with her little daughter in her arms, jumped from the carriage and escaped injury, and Mr. Hass managed to stop the horses before any serious damage was done.

—Lockport Abvertiser, Aug. 1893

district which means that the county is short $250,000 in taxes from these three sources alone. In addition over $450,000 of the county funds are tied up in the defunct banks in Joliet.

The second real estate tax was due August first and less taxes were paid in this installment than in the first installment.

ILLNESS FATAL TO MRS. A. C. HALL OF MOKENA

Mrs. Arthur C. Hall, aged 52 years, a resident of Mokena for the past seven years, died in her home Thursday mid-night following an illness dating back to last January. She had been a patient in Joliet and Chicago hospitals. Everything medical science could do was done, but no cure could be effected.

The deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hutchinson and was born in Geneseo, Illinois. She was born in Geneseo, Illinois, Feb. 22nd, 1881. On January 13, 1900 she was united in marriage with Arthur C. Hall. To this union a son and two daughters were born, all of whom survive.

After their marriage they resided in Chicago and located in Mokena about seven years ago. Mr. Hall is in the employ of Swift & Co.

Surviving are the husband, one son Willis, two daughters Mrs. Minnie Nebeker, Miss Dorothy Hall, 2 grand children and a host of friends who all mourn her untimely passing.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the late home, Rev. Ralph M. Gray, pastor of the Mokena M. E. church officiating.

Mrs. Groves sang accompanied by Mrs. Fred Werner.

The floral tributes were profuse and beautiful.

Burial was made in the St. John cemetery, Mokena.

Mrs. Hall was a devoted wife and mother, kind neighbor and friend.

Offices of Alderman and J. P. Cannot Be Held By One Man

A very interesting case has arisen in Midlothian which is of particular interest in this section. Edward Reimer, town clerk of Bremen township has raised the question as to the right of a member of the Board of Trustees of a village to hold the office of Justice of the Peace at the same time.

Attorney Francis A. Harper of Tinley Park who is also the attorney for Bremen township has just given his opinion to the effect that a man cannot hold these two offices at the same time and that when he qualifies for the second office he thereby resigns from the first one.

Attorney General Koerner has also ruled that it is illegal for a man who is holding the office of village trustee to also hold the office of Justice of the Peace. Which ever office he was elected to is the one he can hold but if he persists in holding both offices, whatever acts he performs in the first office are illegal and void.

Wm. Martin Post to Hold Big Dance

William Martin Post No. 725, V. F. W. of the U. S., Lincoln Estates, is giving another big dance on Saturday night August 26, 1933.

The members of the Post have under consideration the installing of a novel feature at this dance. They call it a "Suggestion Box". A box will be placed in a conspicuous place on the dance floor and dance guests may suggest or express a desire for the kind of dance music they prefer. These requests will be granted every hour or possibly oftener. It is hoped that this experiment will create greater friendly feeling and enjoyment to all. Music will be furnished by Mr. A. Elphick and His High Steppers. Bar refreshments and Sandwiches. Everyone is welcome.

Mokena Married Men Trimmed

In the second game of a double header Sunday, the Aces beat the Orioles 6 to 4 in a thrilling game.

The first game Frankfort married men trimmed the Mokena married men 16 to 9.

The Orioles play Reuters Service Station at Heydens Field Sunday, August 27. All baseball fans are urged to attend.

Mokena Aces:

C. Lauffer	lf	4	1	1
Marti	p	5	0	1
W. Cappel	3b	4	1	2
McGovney	2b	5	0	1
B. Muehler	1b	4	1	0
E. Walsh	cf	5	0	1
Hohenstein	c	5	1	1
W. Muehler	ss	1	1	0
Warning	rf	5	1	1
Brown	ss	1	0	0

Totals 39 6 8

Mokena Oriols:

Knaqmuhs	cf	5	0	0
D. Miller	3b	4	0	0
B. Miller	1b	4	1	2
H. Cappel	c	4	0	0
Frisch	ss	4	1	1
Sippel	2b	4	1	1
Walsh	p	4	0	0
Rinke	lf	4	0	0
H. Miller	rf	3	1	1

Totals 36 4 5

Mokena Aces again chalked up another victory by defeating the Joliet Panthers at Ingalls Park Sunday by a score of 12 to 0.

Walsh and Hohenstein starred for Mokena, the former getting 4 hits out of 4 times at bat while Hohen-

Mokena Garden

Club to Hold Flower Show Sept. 8th

The Mokena Garden Club will hold a flower show in the parlors of the St. John Evangelical church in Mokena on Friday, September 8th, 1933 from 1 p. m., to 9 p. m., standard time.

Following are the rules governing the flower show:

Each exhibitor must provide containers for each entry.

All flowers judged for perfection of bloom or artistic arrangement, must be grown by exhibitor.

Exhibits must be delivered ready for placing at church parlors at 10 a. m., September 8th.

No exhibits to be removed before 9:00 p. m., Sept. 8th. All exhibits to be removed before 12:00 o'clock Sept. 9th.

Awards will be made of ribbons, first, second, third. Prize for total high points.

There will be a door prize.

All receptacles entered at owners risk.

This show is not limited to Garden Club members. All interested in flowers or gardens are invited and urged to exhibit. Everyone is eligible to enter as many exhibits as he or she desires.

Section 1—Miscellaneous annuals and perennials. Perfection of bloom. 1-3 or 6 of one kind or color. Container milk bottle. Arrangement not considered.

Section 2—Artistic arrangements. Baskets, vases, and bowls. Colors predominating blue, pink, white, yellow, purple and red. Mixed flower bouquet.

Section 3—Class 1, best fernery filled with ferns; class 2, best fernery filled with miscellaneous plants; class 3, Cacti (any kind); class 4, ferns (any kind); class 5, house plants (any kind).

Section 4—Fruits and vegetables. Prime for table use.

Class 1, 1 of any large variety; class 2, 3 of any medium variety; class 3, 12 of any small variety.

Junior Garden Clubs.

Class 1, Artistic arrangement, basket, vase or bowl of wild flowers.

Class 2, Bouquet mothers table.

Class 3, Bouquet dad's desk, container suitable.

Class 4, Artistic arrangement party table.

Class 5, Scrap book.

Class 6, 1 or 3 specimen of any annual or perennial color or variety.

Class 7, 1 or 3 of any vegetable.

Class 8, Best collection of vegetables.

Class 9, Miscellaneous articles made by children.

Class 10, Posters by children.

Admission Adults, 15c; Children 10c.—Adv.

Tinley Park Garden Club News

AUGUST

Now the glad year's afternoon Hurries on apace,

Now the mountain-ash tree, with a dainty grace,

Don't her loveliest party gown. Coral beads and lace!

—Adele Jordan Tarr.

The Tinley Park Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Florence Andersen on Thursday, August 17th. There were about eighteen members present.

After the meeting was opened and roll call taken, the garden club quilt was discussed.

It was decided not to raffle the quilt at this time. Mrs. Baldwin will take charge of the quilt and the chances.

It will be on display at Vogts store this week, and then at Funk's store for a week.

Mrs. Rodgers and Mrs. Hartman were appointed as auditing Committee.

Mrs. Nielsen, Mrs. Boeyer, and Mrs. Berg are the nominating committee for this year.

Mrs. Rodgers reported on Junior Garden Club activities.

Our president, Mrs. Clara Goessel and her new little son are at Barron Lake.

We will be glad to see her come back so that we can pay our respects to mother and son.

Mrs. Nylander from Peoria was a most welcome guest at the meeting.

Mrs. Andersen served tea, coffee and delicious cake to the members and it surely seemed like old times to spend an afternoon at this hospitable home.

The next meeting will be at Mrs. Dini's.

Book Exchange Notice

A used book exchange for both grade and high school will be held Wednesday, August 30 from 7:30 A. M., to 12:00 noon (standard time) in the southeast room of the Mokena Public School Building.

Parents sending in books please include with them a list of the books with the prices desired.

There will be no change in text books used in either grade or high school.

M. E. JOHN, Prin.

stein walloped a home run with 2 of his mates on bases.

The Mokena Aces are without games for the remainder of the season and will be glad to schedule games, preferably at home.

THOUSANDS

EXPECTED AT ORLAND SEPT. 4

The biggest Labor Day celebration ever staged in the southern part of Cook County will be witnessed at Orland Park. Bands, fire departments, drum and bugle corps, special floats, etc., have been secured to take part in the big event.

The Naperville band and the Downers Grove band have also signified their intention of being in on the big doings. The crack Tinley Park fifty piece band will play in the concert following the parade. In all so far there are over 200 pieces of band instruments lined up. The Westmont Drum and Bugle corps, the Lemont Drum and Bugle corps and others will be in the Drum and Bugle division.

It is estimated that the gigantic parade will be over a mile long. Various fire departments, bands and drum and bugle corps will head the parade followed by decorated floats and other features. A surprise feature is also in store, but just what it is will not be known until the day of the parade.

The parade will begin promptly at 1:30 p. m., daylight saving time. At the conclusion of the parade the annual picnic of the Orland Fire Department will be held in the forest preserve west of the Orland Park school.

At the picnic grounds there will be sports of all kinds and other attractions including a band concert.

Prizes galore will be awarded. It is estimated that a crowd of five thousand, or more persons will attend if the weather is right. All the surrounding towns are manifesting a keen interest in this celebration and promise to send big delegations.

An open air dance pavilion has been erected in the forest preserve and the evening will be given over to dancing.

For the biggest time ever seen in this section be sure to come to Orland Park Labor Day. Bring all your friends and neighbors with you.

Huge banners, streamers and signs will be used to decorate 143rd street with so this thoroughfare will have the appearance of a regular city street.

The Orland Park Fire Department is outdoing itself to make this parade and picnic the biggest success of any thing ever undertaken here along this line.

Tinley Park R. N. A. Juvenile News

Anna Mae Stoeckman was hurt last week when a spring on a screen door flew off and struck her in the eye, we are glad to inform that the pupil of the eye was saved, altho the eye was cut.

Next meeting of the Juveniles will be September 12th at 6 p. m., Community Hall. That will be on a Tuesday eve. Please be on time.

Mrs. Florence Andersen and Mrs. Esther Stoeckman will entertain the children after the meeting.

Janette Freberg is out again.

The Juveniles wish to thank the R. N. A. for their donation.

Any R. N. A. member, having anything over their dollar; that they are supposed to make for the R. N. A. Lodge, will do a much appreciated turn by giving it to the Juvenile General Fund. Now that we have our Juveniles started, let us support them.

Will Hold Re-union

The Marquardt annual family reunion will be held in Highland park near Joliet on August 28th. All the members of the Marquardt families and descendants are cordially invited to attend this reunion.

NEW DEAL DANCE LATEST

A "New Deal Dance" will be held at the new Bachelor Grove dance hall at 143rd and Oak Park ave., in Gooesville, Sunday, Sept. 3rd and Saturday, Sept. 9th. Music by the Tepee Melody Busters. Everybody invited.

One Spike Won't Build A Railroad

A single spike just marks a good intention. A thousand of them will hold together a track that will carry the weight of a great train. A single deposit in a savings account, like a spike, will rust from disuse without company. But add to those deposits regularly and you'll soon have enough to support the crushing weight of an emergency—or build you a ballasted roadbed to Easy Street.

WE OFFER COMPLETE BANKING SERVICE

CONSULT US ON YOUR BUSINESS PROBLEMS

ORLAND STATE BANK

A ROLL OF HONOR BANK

Banking Hours 8 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Telephone Orland Park 61

Mokena Men's Club

To Give Prizes To Men Saturday Night

Last week the lucky person at the Mokena Men's Club Dance was Mr. Kenneth Wright of Blue Island. Mr. Wright won a beautiful black and white silk dress and was so pleased with the lucky gift that he mounted the platform and gave an impromptu speech.

This week, however, the club is going to give away free a man's ring to the lucky person. The ring will be purchased at one of Joliet's leading jewelry stores.

Siemens Family

Holds Re-union

A family reunion was held at the old Siemens homestead now owned by Herman Siemens near Tinley Park, in honor of cousins from Nebraska the past week. The sixty-eight guests gathered on the lawn from the following places: Germany, Minnesota, Nebraska, Indiana, Chicago, Blue Island, Mokena, Homewood, Tinley Park and Iowa.

The afternoon was spent in games until supper time, when all the guests sat down to a basket spread, after which the guests parted for their homes.

Tinley Park Club

Celebrates Birthday

The H. B. F. club celebrated its first birthday last Saturday with a party at the home of Mrs. Arthur Nauman in Tinley Park

ILLINOIS
State News

The home of James Eckelman at Valer was destroyed by fire. Officers said several explosions occurred within the house during the blaze.

Mayor Clarence E. Hodson of Rock Island, forty, elected last April, died of complications resulting from an appendicitis operation. He is survived by his widow and three children.

O. J. Hagebush, fifty-five, former superintendent of the Illinois State Hospital for Insane at Anna, died at Ashley of injuries received when he fell down a stairway in his home.

William J. Stratton, former secretary of state, announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for state treasurer. The primaries are next April.

Bandits forced an entrance into H. C. Schmidt's drug store in Peoria, set a charge of dynamite beneath the safe, and escaped with $300 cash and postal receipts.

Uorman Fjelsted, thirty-two, and his wife, twenty-eight, of Rockford, were drowned in Rock river at Byron. David Pauls, farmer, found the body of the woman while fishing.

William Newton Wallace, seventy-six, a Burlington railroad trainman for 42 years, and known to thousands in the Chicago suburban passenger service as Billy Wallace, fell dead at his home in Aurora of a heart attack.

Two fourth class postmasters for Illinois appointed by Postmaster General Farley are Miss Florence Gwintar at Eleroy, and Mrs. Mary G. Lawless at Lorraine. Named acting postmasters are: D. J. McAllister at Greenville, and E. J. Coveny at Elizabeth.

Funeral services were held in Savanna for States Representative John Acker, sixty-three, Republican, who died of a heart attack at his home.

Overexertion the first day he had been able to find a job in more than a year caused the death of C. J. Snell, sixty-one, of Galesburg. He was pushing a wheelbarrow loaded with gravel on a hard road construction job when he fell dead from heart trouble.

After 75 years of hunting horse thieves, the Greenview Rangers of Greenview, an organization of great service in Menard county in former years, has been disbanded. James Hughes, eighty-seven, the sole remaining ranger, announced. The first meeting of the organization was held January 25, 1859, with 20 members present.

Permanent World's Fair headquarters for the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs have been established in the Horticultural building at A Century of Progress in Chicago, where the federation has fifty model gardens on display. Hostesses selected from the various member clubs each day will be on hand to welcome members from the fifty clubs co-operating in the exhibit.

A den in the Lincoln park zoo at Galesburg, formerly occupied by bears, has been taken over as living quarters by Tom Reynolds and his family of seven. The family, including a three-months-old baby, eats and sleeps in the cave and uses the cement enclosure behind the iron bars for a front porch. Outside of having people stare at them Caveman Reynolds says the quarters are very pleasant.

Garrett De Forrest Kinney, sixty-four, former director of state finances, who was under indictment on charges of failing to turn over state funds, died in Mitchell sanitarium in Peoria, from a self-inflicted bullet wound. Kinney sent a bullet through his brain June 23 in his office in the Culter & Proctor Stove company, from which he had retired as president the day before.

Gov. Henry Horner asked 7,500 National Guardsmen in training at Camp Grant, Rockford, to do their bit in civilian life toward booming the national recovery. The address was one of two main features of the day. The other was a celebration in honor of Brig. Gen. John J. Garrity, retired commander of the Sixty-third brigade and former Chicago chief of police.

Appointment of seven county farm debt adjustment committees to aid his state-wide committee in assisting deserving farmers who are in financial straits was announced by Gov. Henry Horner. The state-wide group and the county committees are co-operating with the federal officials in the national administration farm recovery program. The county committees announced are for Adams, Douglas, Menard, Mercer, Peoria, Stark and Warren. Farmers who desire to obtain the assistance of the county committees in solving their financial difficulties must make formal application to the committee in their respective county.

Mrs. Ruth York, twenty-four years old, a professional parachute jumper, fell 2,500 feet to her death near Aurora when her parachute failed to open after she had leaped from a plane. A picnic crowd of 15,000 saw the fatal jump. The parachute jump was scheduled as an added feature of the Aurora Knights of Columbus outing at Exposition park.

Rev. I. W. Bingham, D. D., pastor of the Lutheran Memorial church of Quincy, was appointed acting president of Carthage college to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Rev. Jacob Diehl, D. D.

Camping Out in Railway Coaches in England

ENGLISH railway companies this summer have fitted out coaches as camping outfits and find they are popular and easily rented. Each coach accommodates six persons and has two bedrooms, living room and kitchen with all utensils. The coach may be booked at a certain station and conveyed to the camping site at moderate cost.

CHILDREN'S STORY
By THORNTON W. BURGESSJERRY FOLLOWS HIS OLD PLAN

PETER RABBIT and Hooty the Owl were not the only ones interested in the building of Jerry Muskrat's new house. Oh, my, no. Every one around the Smiling Pool was interested. It was very much the same as it would be if a new house were being built near where you live. You know how interested in that house every single neighbor would be.

Just so at the Smiling Pool there was a great deal of interest in what Jerry was doing. Grandfather Frog was interested. Billy Mink and Little Joe Otter were interested. Redwing the Blackbird was interested. Spotty

Spotty the Turtle Was Interested.

The Turtle was interested. You see it gave them something to think about and talk about and criticize. So they spent a great deal of time watching Jerry work, and giving him advice which he didn't ask for and didn't heed.

"Chug-a-rum!" exclaimed Grandfather Frog abruptly from the big green lily pad on which he was sitting. "Chug-a-rum! I suppose, Jerry Muskrat, you will build a finer house than you had before."

"I hope it will be a little better," replied Jerry modestly. "I ought to be able to build it a little better after what I learned in building the first one. Anyway it will be safer, because it will not be in danger of being swept away if there should be a flood next spring. I will make it a little larger than the old one and the foundations will be broader."

"I suppose that means that you will have more rooms in it," said Grandfather Frog, rolling his big goggle eyes so as to stare at Jerry.

"More room but not more rooms," replied Jerry. "I shall follow the same plan as the old one was built on."

"Huh!" exclaimed Grandfather Frog. "Huh! I should think that while you are about it you would try to improve on that old plan and have something really new. I would if I were foolish enough to waste a lot of good time in hard work building a house. I'm thankful I don't have need of a house, but if I did and had to build a new one I certainly would try to make it enough different from the old one to know that I really had a new one. What's your idea in making it just like the old one?"

"As I've already told you, it won't be just like the old one; it will be bigger and better," replied Jerry with considerable dignity. "It will simply be on the same plan as the old one because that plan just exactly suits me, just as it suited my father and my grandfather and great-grandfather and my—"

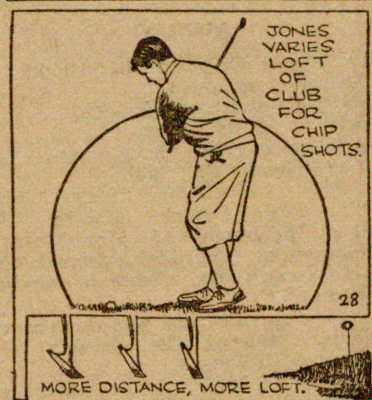

"Hold on!" exclaimed Grandfather Frog hastily. "You don't need to go back in your family history to the days when the world was young; I know all about it. Some people are set in their ways. They certainly are set in their ways. Because you, grandfather-a-thousand-times-removed did a certain thing in a certain way is no reason that you should do that same thing in exactly the same way."

"Ho!" cried Jerry Muskrat. "Ho! That is queer talk from you, Grandfather Frog! That certainly is queer talk from you, who are living today just as your grandfathers way back in the beginning of things lived. I hope I have sense enough to know that when I have a thing which exactly suits me it would be worse than foolish to try to change it. Here comes Redtail the Hawk!"

"Chug-a-rum!" exclaimed Grandfather Frog and dived headlong into the Smiling Pool. Jerry grinned and then quietly sank from sight himself.

© 1933, by T. W. Burgess.—WNU Service.

GRAPHIC GOLF

PITCH AND ROLL

WITHIN a short distance of the pin and where the hole lies well back from the edge of the green, Bobby Jones generally pitches short, allowing the ball to roll the rest of the way. The ball is pitched sufficiently, however, to allow it to land on the putting green itself. No chance is taken on an irregularity of the ground spoiling the shot; which might occur if the ball came down on the fairway first. For this reason Jones increases the loft of his club in ratio to the ball's distance from the green. Near the putting surface a mashie iron can be used, the ball pitched to the edge and plenty of roll added. Further back a more lofted club is required to send the ball in an arc that will be sure to reach the vicinity of the green and stop near the cup. Thus the mashie, mashie niblick and niblick can be used at time for this play. The shot is generally straightforward without a sign of backspin.

© 1933, Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

TASTY SANDWICHES

THIS is the season for the sandwich. The following will be helpful in preparing your lunch baskets or sandwiches for the porch or garden parties:

Emergency Sandwich.

Put six sweet pickles through the food chopper, also five hard-cooked eggs. Cream two tablespoonfuls of peanut butter with one of prepared mustard and add the pickle and eggs with salt and pepper to taste. Add a dash of vinegar to thin the mixture and a bit of paprika for added seasoning. Spread on whole wheat or rye bread.

Frock of Satin

One of the most attractive of the season's fashion offerings is this new draped satin frock and turban. The frock makes nice use of faggoting to accent its lines.

Sardine Sandwich.

Take one cupful of minced sardines, one-half cupful of stuffed olives chopped, one teaspoonful of scraped onion, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, one tablespoonful of lemon juice and three tablespoonfuls of cream. Mix and spread on buttered brown bread.

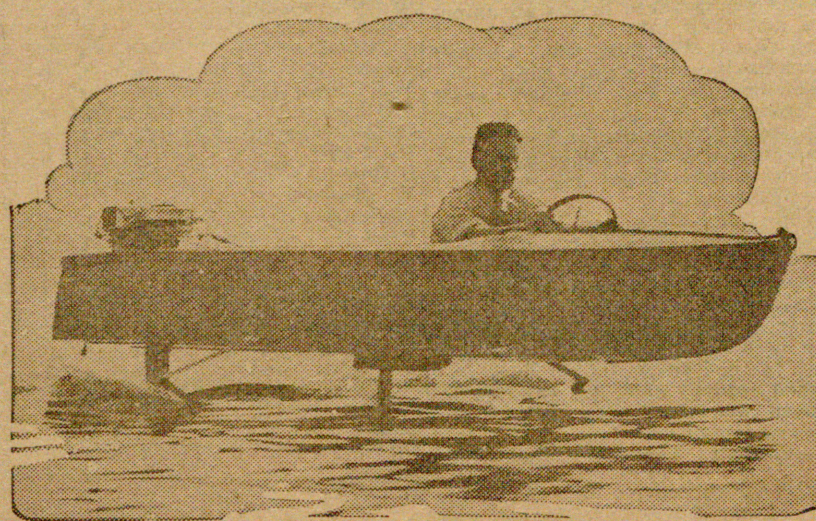

Lobster and Celery Sandwich. Mince fine the meat of a fresh boiled lobster. Moisten with heavy mayonnaise, add a dash of cayenne and two teaspoonfuls of minced white celery leaves. Spread on rounds of bread and decorate with a stuffed olive. These are served open, or they may be covered with another slice of bread and use the stuffed olives minced.

Pineapple and Tuna Fish Sandwich. Take one can of tuna, drain and flake, add salt and pepper and two tablespoonfuls of chopped pickle, add french dressing to soften and then add three-fourths of a cupful of drained crushed pineapple. Spread on buttered bread.

Salmon with lemon juice mixed to a paste and spread on bread, and taked salmon with a good boiled salad dressing spread on buttered rye bread make most satisfying sandwiches.

© by Western Newspaper Union.

Increases Speed of Motorboats

DR. OSKAR L. TIETJENS, Westinghouse research engineer, has made public an invention of his which, he claims, will double the speed of small motorboats. It consists of thin steel vanes which are set beneath the boat and on the motor. When the boat reaches its maximum speed these vanes raise it entirely out of the water.

I SHALL CHOOSE
MY COMPANY

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THE past is both our friend and foe,
And we shall say if more or less
It shall be so.

Forgetfulness
Is not our friend if we forego
The memory of things that bless,
Nor memory if we shall know
But recollections that distress.

The wise will treat them as they do
The ones they meet upon the way:
The faithful few

Of yesterday
Shall be their comrades all life through,
Forgotten strangers those who say
The thing unkind, or prove untrue,
Nor on our burdens burdens lay.

Yes, I shall say to memory,
If it shall bless the way I wend,
"Abide with me

Until the end,
For such shall my companions be,
My journey share, my steps attend,
For I shall choose my company,
Forget the foe, recall the friend."

© 1933, Douglas Malloch.—WNU Service.

BONERS

Julius Caesar was murdered by the Ides of March. As he was dying he looked up and said, "You two brutes!"

BONERS are actual humorous tid-bits found in examination papers, essays, etc., by teachers.

The king of England has little political power. In fact, he is just the blockhead of the government.

Centipedes are insects that are found by the hundreds while millipedes are found by the millions.

Oceanica is that continent which contains no land.

Caveat Emptor,
Caviar for the emperor.

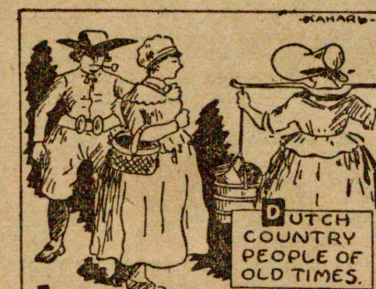

The digestive juices are the bile and the sarcastic juice.

The three principal religions of China are Buddhism, Brahmanism and idle worship.

The name of America is anonymous with Liberty.

© 1933, Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

Do YOU Know—

That New York City, now the second largest city in the world had a population in the year 1623 of thirty families of Dutch colonists from Holland. It was then a small trading-post called New Amsterdam, so named after the principal city of Holland.

© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate, WNU Service

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

KEEPING PROMISES

WHEN one makes a promise to a child one must keep it or lose the child's confidence. The loss of a child's confidence costs the child dearly and makes no happiness for the one who was responsible.

Christmas was drawing near and little Harry was excited. He got into all kinds of mischief. He discovered new ways of being troublesome. New ways of getting into danger. Altogether he rode on the consciousness of his family day and night until his mother lost all patience and said, "Listen to me young man. You've gone just far enough. Another such exhibition as this and you get nothing for Christmas. Not a thing. Santa Claus will not come to a bad boy like you."

Harry seemed to consider this for a time and his mother thought she had made an impression upon his mind and that he would behave a little better. But she changed her mind about all that when the cook brought Harry into her presence and charged him with breaking every egg in the pantry and smearing the place with the mess. "Just for fun, I did it," said he.

"Very well. You get nothing for Christmas." But when Christmas morning came all the presents were ready and Harry enjoyed them to the full. Neither he nor his mother mentioned the threat about bad boys and Santa Claus.

By and by his birthday approached and he began the same wild antics. "Now look here, young man. If you don't behave yourself you'll get nothing for your birthday."

Harry forgot all caution. "Huh. You said that about last birthday and I got all my presents. And you said it at Christmas and I got them too. I'll get them just the same."

Well, that time his mother held out and he got no presents. A sad little boy went to bed that birthday night, and a sadder mother and father. Threats are promises and if you make them you have to keep them or have a very good reason for not doing so—one that the child will accept as true.

"Be a good boy Daniel and go to the dentist and have that shaky tooth taken out and I'll take you to the circus," said Aunt Minnie.

"Don't believe her, Dan. She told me that and never took me," said Hortense looking up from her doll's carriage toward her guilty aunt.

Anyway a surprise is better than a promised treat. And threats are better left out of things.

POOR VISION

THOSE who would help children must have clear vision. They must see the child truly. Now there is none among us so wise as to know the truth about a child. None of us has the true vision that sees the truth, the whole truth. The most any of us can expect to see is a glimpse of the spirit that is the child.

It is sad that so many well meaning teachers and supervisors cultivate a warped vision of childhood. They are so intent upon redeeming the child from his errors that they fix their vision on that point and see nothing else. The child becomes a child of sin, a thorn in the flesh, a creature to be punished, corrected, re-created in our own image. And that is not vision at all, but blindness, for a child is good.

Have you not known the teacher who all day long kept saying, "How many had you wrong?" and when informed of the enormity of the error, shook her head and wrote down a failure in red ink? Have you not known the supervisor who examined a class to find out what the children did not know? If he finds they know one thing he drops that and goes on searching until he finds the weak spot in their knowledge. Then he dwells there measuring the extent of their ignorance. Have you not known parents who kept reminding the children of the mistakes they had made, reciting all their poor marks, impressively lecturing about their lack of effort, their low aim? It was but yesterday that I heard a parent say to a fine boy, "Yes, I know you have an average over 95. I know you have a 100 in three majors. I know all that. What I want to know is why you couldn't get a high mark in music?"

"Maybe it is because I'm not a musician. I can't be everything, you know, mother."

"You could get an honor mark in every subject of the curriculum if you put your mind to it. I don't want any low grades. Nothing below an A is any good. Work up that music."

Consider that. Do you imagine for a moment that this exacting lady had made such grades in her school days? You know she did not. Had she been as intelligent as all that; she would have cultivated a vision that enabled her to see strength where it was, see beauty and power where they were clearly in operation instead of finding the one weak place and dwelling on it.

The right vision sees the effort the child has made; sees the struggle and the triumph shining through the low rating; sees the steady upward growth of the child who is feeling his way through the tangled maze of school lessons and adult standards and queer regulations.

© Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

TANGLED WIVES

By Peggy Shane

Copyright by Peggy Shane.
WNU Service

SYNOPSIS

A pretty young woman finds herself in a taxicab in New York with a strange man who addresses her enigmatically and speaks of "an awful shock." When he leaves her for a moment at a drug store she drives on, for she fears him. She stops at the Biltmore, still wondering who she is. Her memory is gone. From her expensive clothing she concludes she is married to a wealthy man. She meets a young woman who speaks of her desire to go to Reno for a divorce, if she can get the money. The woman vanishes with the nameless girl's purse and $500. An elderly woman, Mrs. Oscar Du Val, cordially greets the nameless girl, addressing her as "Doris," wife of Mrs. Du Val's son, Rocky. Rocky is abroad, and Doris, bewildered, is taken to the home of Mrs. Du Val and her sculptor husband, Oscar. Doris falls in love with Rocky's photograph, but cannot remember having married him.

CHAPTER III

"I think I'd like to go into New York," said Doris.

She looked away from Mrs. Du Val as she spoke. Below her eyes was a long vista of formal terraces, dropping one below another and ending in a square pool.

They were sitting on a grassy floored room set against the house, and walled on one side by a rock garden, and on the other by a lattice of climbing roses. Lunch was spread on a gaily tiled table. They were waiting for Oscar Du Val to come from his studios and eat with them.

Mrs. Du Val's fingers were busy as usual with crocheting. She did not look up, but Doris saw that she was frowning anxiously.

"Rocky left orders that you are not to go into New York, you know."

This was rather surprising. Doris lifted her pretty brows. "Why not?"

"You know Rocky's reasons better than I. You were with him, were you not, when he spoke to me over the telephone? You perhaps heard him make me give him my promise."

"What harm would it do for me to go into New York?"

"Oh, C'est Rocky," sighed Mrs. Du Val. "Perhaps our boy is a little of the jealous, n'est-ce pas? What do you think? At the time he made me to promise I had the idea that you were a little—shall we say a little too gay in your habits? But since I know that this is not the case—I rather wonder at that boy Rocky."

"It's certainly rather unusual."

"You find it dull here, little Doris?"

"Oh no. You've been so kind. So wonderful, only—"

Doris hesitated. "I hate to bother you about it, but I did want to go to New York."

"Why do you want to go to New York?"

Doris could think of no convincing answer. "I'd like to do some shopping," she said haltingly. Then she flushed with embarrassment. She had no money. With what could she shop?

"What is it you need?" said Mrs. Du Val kindly.

Doris tried hard to think. "Oh some thread. Some red thread to mend a rip in my red dress, and some darning cotton."

"But I can let you have those things, Doris. You know you have only to ask."

Doris felt ashamed and desperate. It was impossible for her to go to New York without money. To suppose she were not Mrs. Rocky Du Val seemed now simply morbid imagining. If she weren't then where was the real Mrs. Rocky Du Val? She would have turned up long ago, surely. She sat biting her lip and looking at Mrs. Du Val who kept busily on with her crocheting.

After a moment the French woman's rich voice began to flow like an organ; pulling out stops of joy and gloom, ecstasy and despair. "I know how is it when you are young, Doris. You want change. You want to see some of your friends. Perhaps the doctor?"

"No."

"Or to the dentist?"

Doris said in relief, "Oh yes. I ought to go to the dentist."

"We ought all to go and see the dentist regularly," said Mrs. Du Val placidly. "We will go together into town. We will go to your dentist. We will go to the shops. We will buy some things which you need. Will that be good?"

Doris did not know what to answer. She was touched by the evident desire of her mother-in-law to please her. Mrs. Du Val was at once fussy and grand. This paradox made her lovable. But it did not make her a possible companion for Doris on her proposed tour of investigation into her own past. She would not let Doris have a minute alone. And at the same time her dignity of character, her overflowing kindness would make it difficult for Doris to practice the least kind of deceit.

"Where is your dentist?"

There. She had already told one lie about a dentist. Now she must make up something glib. "I haven't a good one," she said. "Do you know of one?" Could she possibly think of any reasonable excuse to get away from Mrs. Du Val in New York?

Mrs. Du Val was looking pleased. "Yes. I have a very good dentist."

She rose and folded away her lace. "I will tell Oscar that we are going to New York this afternoon. He will not like that. He is like a baby. Always

I must be here. We will leave immediately after lunch and return for dinner. Will that, do you think, give us enough time?"

Doris did not know. It did not seem to her that it would give any time at all, since it took two hours to get into New York, and two more to return. It was after twelve now. If they left at one they would get to New York at three. They would have to leave at five to be back by seven. Two hours was something, of course. If she could find an excuse to go to Tange's and see if she could identify herself through the hat, and dresses and suit she had bought, it would be plenty of time. But could she break away from Mrs. Du Val and get to Tange's?

In a few minutes Oscar had joined them and they all sat down at the little table.

Mrs. Du Val told her husband that she was taking Doris into New York that afternoon.

He put down his spoon at once. He looked at his wife angrily.

"Why?"

"Ah well. We have many things to do."

"That is nonsense," said Oscar. "What with all these motor accidents on the roads it isn't safe for you to drive into New York. The last time you went when you went to get Doris, God knows what I suffered!" He rose abruptly and sent the light chair behind him flying into the rock garden.

His wife rose. "See what you have done now!" she scolded. "Come, sit down and finish your lunch. Of course we will go to New York." She smiled into Doris' agonized eyes. "It will be all right. He always acts so when I have to go to New York."

After lunch the big car came around in front of the door, and Oscar Du Val gloomily watched them drive away. From the important way that Mrs. Du Val switched herself into the limou-

Val—then what would she say to the little French woman?

A silver of ice seemed to go down her spine. But that was nonsense.

Nevertheless she must find out for certain. The problem that confronted her was how to leave Mrs. Du Val for a few moments. She had an idea that the French woman meant to stick to her very persistently.

"Where do you want to go first, Doris?"

"I would like to go to a shop called Tange's. I bought a dress there that has come out at one of the seams, and I want to show it to them."

This was pure inspiration. Mrs. Du Val clucked sympathetically. "Such robbery. A dress in an expensive shop like Tange's coming out at the seams. Did it not fit you then? Oh my—yes. We must certainly speak to them. Did you bring the dress with you?"

"Oh, dear, oh dear. We should have the dress. You remember perhaps the clerk that waited on you. I will give her a talking to. But we must not excite you at such a time," she said with an air of tenderness.

What mysterious ailment was she supposed to have? She saw genuine concern in Mrs. Du Val's small brown eyes. "I feel very well," she said.

"Shall we go first to the dentist?"

"Suppose we stop by Tange's and I just run in for a moment while you wait in the car. I'm sure when I tell them about the dress, they'll agree to fix it, and tomorrow I can send it in to them."

"No, no," said Mrs. Du Val, "we will go together. There is plenty of time."

Doris felt desperate. Panic was clutching her heart. She wanted more than anything else to prove that she was Mrs. Rocky Du Val. But she had to go in that store alone. She determined on new tactics. "I have a confession to make," she said. "I want you to trust me. You said a little while ago that you did. I have merely made up this silly story of a dress torn at the seams, because I wish to run into Tange's alone. I can't tell you my business. But I sine and settled her skirts over her round short legs, Doris knew that the French woman was secretly pleased with the outing. Perhaps married to a less exacting husband she would have loved gaiety and mixing with the world.

But Instead She Slapped a Highly Manicured Hand Over Her Sagging Lips.

Oscar Du Val kissed them both as solemnly as if he never expected to see them again.

"I feel rather guilty," said Doris.

"Nonsense. It does him good. Let me advise you, Doris, about your husband. In big things, give in to him, yes."

"Yes?" repeated Doris somewhat doubtfully. She did not understand Mrs. Du Val's meaning.

"Yes," said Mrs. Du Val firmly, "always give in to your husband in big things, in things that matter. Let him have his own way about his work. He knows best about that. Let him have his way about his home, yes. But in the little things—ah, Doris, in the little things the woman must be the ruler."

Doris said thoughtfully, "Most people seem to think you should do the other way around? Let him have his way about the things that do not matter, so you can influence him in the big things."

Mrs. Du Val's bright face was overcast like the quick wrapping of the sun in a cloud. "I know. I know it is the theory of the play 'What Every Woman Knows,' a theory that has done much harm, much harm, and made every empty-headed little woman think it is she who is the greater and the doer if it happens her husband has done something good. Never let yourself fall into that error, Doris. I know many women like that. Remember, whatever Rocky becomes it will be because he himself had it in him to become that thing."

Doris felt thrilled and happy. Surely this trip would set her doubts at rest. She must be Mrs. Rocky Du Val. Who else could she be?

As the limousine rolled pompously over the white pavements, her heart was beating more quickly. If she were to go to Tange's and find out that, after all, she was not Mrs. Rocky Du

Val—then what would she say to the little French woman?

A silver of ice seemed to go down her spine. But that was nonsense.

Nevertheless she must find out for certain. The problem that confronted her was how to leave Mrs. Du Val for a few moments. She had an idea that the French woman meant to stick to her very persistently.

"Where do you want to go first, Doris?"

"I would like to go to a shop called Tange's. I bought a dress there that has come out at one of the seams, and I want to show it to them."

This was pure inspiration. Mrs. Du Val clucked sympathetically. "Such robbery. A dress in an expensive shop like Tange's coming out at the seams. Did it not fit you then? Oh my—yes. We must certainly speak to them. Did you bring the dress with you?"

"Oh, dear, oh dear. We should have the dress. You remember perhaps the clerk that waited on you. I will give her a talking to. But we must not excite you at such a time," she said with an air of tenderness.

What mysterious ailment was she supposed to have? She saw genuine concern in Mrs. Du Val's small brown eyes. "I feel very well," she said.

"Shall we go first to the dentist?"

"Suppose we stop by Tange's and I just run in for a moment while you wait in the car. I'm sure when I tell them about the dress, they'll agree to fix it, and tomorrow I can send it in to them."

"No, no," said Mrs. Du Val, "we will go together. There is plenty of time."

Doris felt desperate. Panic was clutching her heart. She wanted more than anything else to prove that she was Mrs. Rocky Du Val. But she had to go in that store alone. She determined on new tactics. "I have a confession to make," she said. "I want you to trust me. You said a little while ago that you did. I have merely made up this silly story of a dress torn at the seams, because I wish to run into Tange's alone. I can't tell you my business. But I sine and settled her skirts over her round short legs, Doris knew that the French woman was secretly pleased with the outing. Perhaps married to a less exacting husband she would have loved gaiety and mixing with the world.

But Instead She Slapped a Highly Manicured Hand Over Her Sagging Lips.

Oscar Du Val kissed them both as solemnly as if he never expected to see them again.

"I feel rather guilty," said Doris.

"Nonsense. It does him good. Let me advise you, Doris, about your husband. In big things, give in to him, yes."

"Yes?" repeated Doris somewhat doubtfully. She did not understand Mrs. Du Val's meaning.

"Yes," said Mrs. Du Val firmly, "always give in to your husband in big things, in things that matter. Let him have his own way about his work. He knows best about that. Let him have his way about his home, yes. But in the little things—ah, Doris, in the little things the woman must be the ruler."

Doris said thoughtfully, "Most people seem to think you should do the other way around? Let him have his way about the things that do not matter, so you can influence him in the big things."

Mrs. Du Val's bright face was overcast like the quick wrapping of the sun in a cloud. "I know. I know it is the theory of the play 'What Every Woman Knows,' a theory that has done much harm, much harm, and made every empty-headed little woman think it is she who is the greater and the doer if it happens her husband has done something good. Never let yourself fall into that error, Doris. I know many women like that. Remember, whatever Rocky becomes it will be because he himself had it in him to become that thing."

Doris felt thrilled and happy. Surely this trip would set her doubts at rest. She must be Mrs. Rocky Du Val. Who else could she be?

As the limousine rolled pompously over the white pavements, her heart was beating more quickly. If she were to go to Tange's and find out that, after all, she was not Mrs. Rocky Du

But Instead She Slapped a Highly Manicured Hand Over Her Sagging Lips.

Val—then what would she say to the little French woman?

A silver of ice seemed to go down her spine. But that was nonsense.

Nevertheless she must find out for certain. The problem that confronted her was how to leave Mrs. Du Val for a few moments. She had an idea that the French woman meant to stick to her very persistently.

"Where do you want to go first, Doris?"

"I would like to go to a shop called Tange's. I bought a dress there that has come out at one of the seams, and I want to show it to them."

This was pure inspiration. Mrs. Du Val clucked sympathetically. "Such robbery. A dress in an expensive shop like Tange's coming out at the seams. Did it not fit you then? Oh my—yes. We must certainly speak to them. Did you bring the dress with you?"

"Oh, dear, oh dear. We should have the dress. You remember perhaps the clerk that waited on you. I will give her a talking to. But we must not excite you at such a time," she said with an air of tenderness.

What mysterious ailment was she supposed to have? She saw genuine concern in Mrs. Du Val's small brown eyes. "I feel very well," she said.

"Shall we go first to the dentist?"

"Suppose we stop by Tange's and I just run in for a moment while you wait in the car. I'm sure when I tell them about the dress, they'll agree to fix it, and tomorrow I can send it in to them."

"No, no," said Mrs. Du Val, "we will go together. There is plenty of time."

Doris felt desperate. Panic was clutching her heart. She wanted more than anything else to prove that she was Mrs. Rocky Du Val. But she had to go in that store alone. She determined on new tactics. "I have a confession to make," she said. "I want you to trust me. You said a little while ago that you did. I have merely made up this silly story of a dress torn at the seams, because I wish to run into Tange's alone. I can't tell you my business. But I sine and settled her skirts over her round short legs, Doris knew that the French woman was secretly pleased with the outing. Perhaps married to a less exacting husband she would have loved gaiety and mixing with the world.

But Instead She Slapped a Highly Manicured Hand Over Her Sagging Lips.

Oscar Du Val kissed them both as solemnly as if he never expected to see them again.

"I feel rather guilty," said Doris.

"Nonsense. It does him good. Let me advise you, Doris, about your husband. In big things, give in to him, yes."

"Yes?" repeated Doris somewhat doubtfully. She did not understand Mrs. Du Val's meaning.

"Yes," said Mrs. Du Val firmly, "always give in to your husband in big things, in things that matter. Let him have his own way about his work. He knows best about that. Let him have his way about his home, yes. But in the little things—ah, Doris, in the little things the woman must be the ruler."

Doris said thoughtfully, "Most people seem to think you should do the other way around? Let him have his way about the things that do not matter, so you can influence him in the big things."

Mrs. Du Val's bright face was overcast like the quick wrapping of the sun in a cloud. "I know. I know it is the theory of the play 'What Every Woman Knows,' a theory that has done much harm, much harm, and made every empty-headed little woman think it is she who is the greater and the doer if it happens her husband has done something good. Never let yourself fall into that error, Doris. I know many women like that. Remember, whatever Rocky becomes it will be because he himself had it in him to become that thing."

Doris felt thrilled and happy. Surely this trip would set her doubts at rest. She must be Mrs. Rocky Du Val. Who else could she be?

As the limousine rolled pompously over the white pavements, her heart was beating more quickly. If she were to go to Tange's and find out that, after all, she was not Mrs. Rocky Du

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
© 1933, Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for August 27

SAUL

LESSON TEXT—I Samuel 15:13-26.
GOLDEN TEXT—And Samuel said, Hark the Lord as great delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices, as in obeying the voice of the Lord? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice, and to hearken than the fat of rams. I Samuel 15:22.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Learning to Obey.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Why a King Failed.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Successes and Failures of Saul.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Strength and Weakness of Saul.

Few men had greater advantages than Saul. Certainly all human history fails to record a more tragic failure. In order to present this lesson properly, it is necessary that the teacher have a synthetic grasp of Saul's history.

1. Saul's Advantages.

a. A worthy inheritance (9:1). His father was "a mighty man of power." One's inheritance is a strong factor in determining his success or failure in life.

2. His natural gifts (9:2).

a. He was humble (10:22). When facing the responsibility of national leadership he hid himself.

b. He was considerate of his father (9:5). Not being successful in the mission committed unto him and thinking that his father would be concerned about him, he proposed to go back.

c. The grace of God was upon him (10:5-7). God visited him with his grace to enable him to perceive the divine choice and to make good in it.

d. The Holy Spirit came upon him (10:10). Acceptable service can only be rendered in the energy of the Holy Spirit.

e. He was zealous for God (11:4-15). As leader he rendered loyal service unto his people because of zeal for God.

3. The friendship of Samuel (15:35). Samuel not only was loyal to Saul in the time of his life, but greatly mourned his death.

II. Saul Made King (chaps. 8-10).

1. The demand of the people (8:1-22). The reason for this demand was threefold:

a. Incapacity of old age (v. 5). This was at least the plea of the people, which seems not to have been denied.

b. The unfaithfulness of his sons (v. 5). Samuel greatly blundered in the appointment of his sons as judges. The office was not hereditary, and they were morally unfit (v. 3).

c. Desired to be like other nations (v. 5). The surrounding nations had strong leaders and rulers, and it was natural that the Israelites should desire proper leadership. Samuel protested, and took the matter to the Lord in prayer. The Lord directed him to solemnly point out to the people the meaning of their action.

2. Saul chosen as king (9:1-11). While on an errand for his father, Samuel found him and anointed him (10:1-16). In due time the divine choice was confirmed by the people at Mizpeh (10:17-27).

3. Saul's leadership displayed (11:1-15). He revealed his military genius in effecting a great victory over the Ammonites at Jabez. Samuel took advantage of this opportunity to have Saul confirmed as king.

III. Saul's Failure (15:1-25).

1. God's command (vv. 1-3). God directed him to utterly destroy the Amalekites because of their evil treatment of Israel (Exod. 17:8; Deut. 25:17).

2. Saul's disobedience (vv. 4-9). Agag, the king, was spared and the best of the goods appropriated.

3. Saul rejected by God (vv. 19-25). a. Samuel cried to God (v. 11). The news of Saul's disgraceful failure greatly disturbed Samuel, moving him to pray to God day and night.

b. Saul's hypocritical pretense (vv. 15, 16). This pretense carried a lie upon its face. His disobedience was revealed by the bleating of the sheep and the lowing of the herds.

c. Samuel rehearses before Saul God's dealing with him (vv. 17-23). He brought him face to face with his sin. God is more concerned with having obedience on the part of his servants than he is to have them offer sacrifices unto him.

IV. The Divine Judgment Falls Upon Saul (15:26-35).

1. The loss of his kingdom (vv. 26-31). For the presumptuous offering of sacrifice the kingdom was rent from Saul and the dynasty passed from his house.

2. Under the control of an evil spirit (19:9-11). When Saul refused allegiance to God, Satan took control of him.

3. His shameful death (31:1-4). He refused to destroy the Amalekite and was shamefully treated by an Amalekite (II Sam. 1:10), and ended his life by his own hand.

Pray More

No resolution or, better, no determination you can make will mean so much in wonderful results as to determine that you will pray much more than ever, that you will pray longer and more widely and deeply in the closet hours at a time to do it, that you will have a worthwhile daily family worship, and that you will really pray in church services. Real praying breath turns to mighty steam power, to radio messages farther than you dream, to results immeasurable.

MIGHT BE WORSE

A visitor to a seaside town was observing the crowd. "I suppose you serve a good many fish dinners," he remarked to the hotel proprietor.

"Yes, the people eat fish, mostly."

"I thought fish was supposed to be brain food, but these people are about the most unintelligent specimens of humanity I've ever seen."

"Well," returned the other with a shrug of his shoulders, "just think of what they'd look like if they didn't eat fish."

Too Much Democracy

Friend—Don't you worry—tomorrow, when you give your speech you will have all intelligent men on your side.

Candidate for Parliament—That is what is worrying me. I would rather have the majority.—Lustige Blätter (Berlin).

Home Life

"You attend many bridge games and lectures?"

"I enjoy them," admitted Miss Cayenne.

"Don't you think a woman's place is in the home?"

"Yes, but not necessarily her own home."—Washington Star.

Expressive

Two caddies were discussing, in the way caddies do, the players whose clubs they were carrying.

"What's your man like?" asked one.

"Left-handed," was the laconic reply, "and keeps his change in his right-hand pocket."

Louise's Lesson

Little Louise had been in the beginners' class at Sunday school for some time. Her mother wished to know what she was learning so she said to her one day: "Louise, what did the teacher tell you today?"

"She told me to sit down and be still for once," was the reply.

NO DISAGREEMENT

"For whom are you going to vote?"

"For the same man as my husband."

"Good. Whom is your husband voting for?"

"The man I tell him to."—Gutierrez (Madrid).

Little England

Englishman—England is the only

The Mokena Tavern

Front Street, Mokena.

We Specialize in

PABST BLUE RIBBON BEER

In bottles and on draught

Come and Try Our COLD STEINS of Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer properly chilled at—

5 cent per Glass

Just visit our tavern once and you will be a "REGULAR".

THE HIDDEN QUART
STAYS UP IN YOUR MOTOR AND NEVER DRAINS AWAY

Only Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil penetrates metal surfaces. Protect your investment... save on repair bills by using Conoco Germ Processed Oil which costs a total of only one-fifth of a cent per mile.

At Red Triangle Stations

CONOCO

GERM PROCESSED MOTOR OIL

PARAFFIN BASE

2c

EACH for any of any 25 or more useful notion items

Any article in this advertisement for 2c.
5,000 Pieces on Sale While
They Last

Buttons, Threads, Yarns, Assorted Notions, etc. and 100 more different and distinct items all go for 2c..

Slides, Buttons Sets
Pearl Buttons, 12 for Snap Fasteners, 12 for
4 1/4 in. Pocket Comb
60-in. Tape Measure
Women's Garters, pair
Shoulder Strapping, yard
Sewing Needles, paper
Sewing Needles, book
Bias Tape, 4 yards
Human Hair Nets, each
White Stay Binding, pc.
3/4-in. Elastic, 2 yd. hank

Brass Safety Pins, 12 for Gilt Vanity Pins, 25 for 27-in. Shoe Laces, 2 pairs
Steel Toilet Pins, 200 for Black or White Thread,
Tempered Bob Pins, doz.
Embroidery Cotton, Skein
J. & P. Coats' Darning Cotton
Colored Pearl Buttons, card
Sanitary Napkins, each
Nickle Plated Thimbles
Wire Hair Pins, 50 for

Potatoes new Low price

No. 1 NEW POTATOES

Carload of FINEST POTATOES, good cookers and bakers; full 15 pounds with Grocery Purchase. 29c Does not include Flour, sugar, coffee or Soap

THE WHITE STORE

"There is Only One White Store in Joliet"
CASS STREET

The Same Old Story

The same old story, Labor versus Capital. The NRA aided by state efforts is reported to have put 123,000 people to work in Pennsylvania. Almost simultaneously the coal strike cleaned out most of the gains. This one incident shows in a dramatic manner the danger that confronted the Recovery Plan from the outset.

The public should not expect great results in a hurry. It was evident from the beginning that an outbreak of warfare between employer and employee was not a remote possibility. Too many skeletons are in the closets of each, significant of bitterness and oppression from ancient battles as well as cruelties and exploitations in the immediate depression.

There seems to be a tradition that works strongly against peace. The history of recovery from depressions has been replete with industrial conflict. Labor always has been regarded by an industry as a commodity to be purchased like any material and on terms of the sharpest bargaining.

Labor is not a commodity, nor is it to the economic advantage of industry or a nation to buy it as cheaply as possible. Economic prosperity lies directly in the opposite direction, pay labor the utmost possible.

Habits die hard. Men and business are suspicious of each other. They very much regret the passing of an opportunity to deal the opposition a telling blow. It is very heartening that a national tribunal for the settlement of these disputes has been set up, and if it functions without intimidation, it can do more in a few months than could be done in years by the old-fashioned struggle.

LINCOLN ESTATES

Last Thursday Mrs. Peter Sluiter was visited by her sister and family and her two daughters.

Steve Steck went to the World's Fair Friday.

Henry Sluiter went to Chicago Monday to visit friends.

Mrs. Chas. Cane spent the week end at her summer home.

Mrs. Syl. Tyler was visiting in Chicago Saturday.

Miss Irma Gibson was an overnight visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. MacDonald.

Sylvester Tyler and family entertained visitors from their old home

This FIVE ROOM COLONIAL HOME PAINTED For Only $15.00

Here's the money-saving way to beautify your home and protect it from the ravages of wind, sun and rain. Monarch 100% Pure Paint is the finest outside paint that is made—every brushful is 100% paint—no adulterants—no inferior substitutes. It goes farther—wears longer and looks much better. Stop in and ask about our free estimating service today—we'll show you how to get better results and save money, too!

LOEBE BROS.

ORLAND PARK, ILL.

Milk Is Pure and Cheap Food and it is especially pure if it comes from—

MARTI'S DAIRY

MOKENA, ILLINOIS

We Hydr-Vac our milk and this assures purity

Try our Milk and Cream.

Phone Mokena 31-W-1 For Daily Delivery. Do It Today!

in Palatine, Illinois, last week.

Mrs. Floyd Slagle went to Chicago Tuesday.

Miss Patricia Tyler is spending a few days at the home of Dr. A. Faller in Chicago.

Mrs. Krohn's mother passed away at her Chicago home last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Cotton have sold their summer home. They expect to build another on the lot adjoining.

Bob Anderson is in Chicago, visiting the World's Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. George Walker went to Chicago to visit Mr. Walker's sick mother.

Mrs. Lois Niedringhaus and son Wilfred were visiting friends in Chicago Thursday.

Lois and Margy Schreuder are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Anderson this.

The Ladies of the Parent Teachers Association will PLEASE be present the FRIDAY BEFORE LABOR DAY to clean the school house.

Andersons have a new 88 ft. well drilled by Mr. Tyler.

Emergency Plan to Strengthen The Dairy Industry

Following a conference with a delegation headed by Don N. Geyer of Chicago and representing one-half million dairy farmers, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace announced at Washington, August 17, an emergency plan to strengthen the whole American dairy industry, with special emphasis on the butter market upon which the price structure is based, and backed by a fund of $30,000,000. As a result of Secretary Wallace's announcement, butter immediately advanced 2 cents and dairy leaders anticipate further advances.

When Secretary Wallace made his announcement relative to the butter plans, he stated, "plans also are being completed that promptly will limit production of dairy products so that control of the price of butter, cheese, and other dairy products can be effected at the source."

In spite of Secretary Wallace's encouraging announcement a telegram received August 21st at the central Office of the Pure Milk Association, Chicago, purporting to be from a committee of milk producers headed by Dan Desmond of Woodstock, Illinois, in which complaint was made that nothing constructive was being done for the farmer.

In reply to this telegram, the Board of Directors sent the following wire: "The Board of Directors is in session today and been frequently in session for more than a month in an attempt to negotiate a deal with buyers of milk that would make possible higher prices for milk readjustment of bases and provide a market for those farmers within our territory that can meet Chicago inspection Stop Such prices and readjustment must be made on a sound basis so that we can hold it after it is secured Stop We have entered into a marketing agreement with the United States Government under the Agricultural Adjustment Act passed by the last Congress Stop A raise in price and a change in the buying plan must be submitted to the Government for approval and as an amendment to the Trade Agreement Stop Delay is occasioned by court procedure against the Government and because of the immense amount of detail confronting Administration forces in the new deal Stop The Government is thorough however and sure and will be a tremendous ally to milk producers Stop The foregoing will indicate to you that the Board of Directors is continuing as always upon a sound program in the best interests of dairy farmers in the Chicago milk shed."

Then the postmaster will authorize you to use the NRA Blue Eagle. This last procedure may take some time and is, of course, subject to reversal when your petition is reviewed by the NRA.

Miss Briggs of Twin Falls, Idaho, is visiting with her aunt, Mr. Russell Myrick and family.

From present indications the Orland Park Community band which disbanded some time ago, will not re-organize again as had been hoped for. Members of the former band who are still interested in band music have been invited to join in with the Midlothian band and are doing so.

Rev. and Mrs. John Mullen were Chicago World's Fair visitors Tuesday.

Miss Blanche Miller celebrated her sixteenth birthday last Monday evening at a birthday party at the Purple Candle in honor of the event. A delightful time was enjoyed by all present.

C. F. Colcord has returned from a trip to Champaign.

The Orland Park public school will open on Tuesday, September 5th.

The Orland Park Post of the American Legion held their regular meeting Tuesday night.

The Orland Park Kitten ball team played the Lemont team and defeated them with a score of 7 to 6 Sunday afternoon.

Former members of the Orland Park band have been invited by Chas.

FRANKFORT

Thursday night, August 17th, a meeting was held in the Frankfort Public School and it was decided to form a musical organization. An election of officers was held and resulted as follows:

President, Mrs. Edward Vollrath
Secretary, Mrs. Edward Weisner
Treasurer, Mrs. Adam Heusner

Mr. Wright of Joliet will be the leader. A meeting was held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the mothers and children at the school auditorium.

Rev. and Mrs. Gerhold had as their guests this week, their son, Rev. Arthur Gerhold and family this week from Iowa.

Frank Luhring returned from his trip to Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. John McGlashen of California visited Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Andrew recently.

Frank Cheney and Mrs. Edward Fuss of Joliet were World's Fair visitors Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Clark have as their guest their daughter Helen of South Carolina.

Mrs. Kathrine Bankow and daughter Isabelle of Joliet spent several days here with relatives.

Mr. S. E. Sears of Clarksdale, Arizona visited J. C. Knight last week after attending the Fair in Chicago. The two men were collegeroom and classmates 36 years ago and this was their first meeting since. Mr. Sears is an educator, adventurer, traveler, hunter, lecturer, author, musician and merchant. After spending two days here with his friends, they parted sadly.

Miss Viola Lankenau entertained her Bible Class Tuesday at the Crete grove. Games were played and dinner and supper were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schoeneck and children of Mokena spent Friday evening in the Charles Pfeiffer home.

Mrs. Ferdinand Bobzin who has been ill for some time at the home of her daughter Mrs. Jake Mager in Blue Island is not able to return to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stephens gave a party last Sunday in Philip's park, near Aurora. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Andrew, Mr. and Mrs. John Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Barlow and family, William Logan, Mrs. Frankie Tinker and Mrs. Ebenezer Stephen. All reported a good time.

ORLAND PARK

Postmaster A. J. Toule wishes to call special attention as to how to proceed to enroll in the NRA and following are the instructions:

Use one of these three methods:

A. Sign the Presidents reemployment agreement. Mail it to the district office of the Department of Commerce. Put its provisions into operation. Sign the Certificate of Compliance. Hand it to your local postmaster who will post your name on the honor roll and deliver samples of the NRA Blue Eagle.

B. Sign the Presidents reemployment agreement. Mail it to the district office of the Department of Commerce. Comply with its provisions as far as possible. Now, if a specific code has been submitted by your industry and its wage and hour provisions accepted by our deputy administrator, sign the Certificate of Compliance with enforcement.

To the extent of NRA consent as announced we have complied with the President's agreement by conforming with the substituted provisions of the code submitted for the trade or industry.

Present this to your local postmaster who will post your name on the honor roll and deliver the NRA Blue Eagle.

C. Sign the President's reemployment agreement. Mail to the district office of the Department of Commerce. If you find its provisions are mostly impossible, then prepare a petition to the NRA, asking for a stay or postponement of those provisions which would produce an "unavoidable hardship." Submit this petition to the trade association of your industry or, if none, to your local chamber of commerce, or such other commercial organization as can properly vouch for the facts. If officially accepted by one of the above, add the following to the face of your certificate: Except for those interim provisions regarding wages and hours which have been approved by the Trade Association.

Then the postmaster will authorize you to use the NRA Blue Eagle. This last procedure may take some time and is, of course, subject to reversal when your petition is reviewed by the NRA.

Miss Briggs of Twin Falls, Idaho, is visiting with her aunt, Mr. Russell Myrick and family.

From present indications the Orland Park Community band which disbanded some time ago, will not re-organize again as had been hoped for. Members of the former band who are still interested in band music have been invited to join in with the Midlothian band and are doing so.

Rev. and Mrs. John Mullen were Chicago World's Fair visitors Tuesday.

Miss Blanche Miller celebrated her sixteenth birthday last Monday evening at a birthday party at the Purple Candle in honor of the event. A delightful time was enjoyed by all present.

C. F. Colcord has returned from a trip to Champaign.

The Orland Park public school will open on Tuesday, September 5th.

The Orland Park Post of the American Legion held their regular meeting Tuesday night.

The Orland Park Kitten ball team played the Lemont team and defeated them with a score of 7 to 6 Sunday afternoon.

Former members of the Orland Park band have been invited by Chas.

F. Nicholson to participate in the second annual band festival to be staged by the Lemont band in Lemont on Saturday evening, September 2nd.

Mrs. Earle Reisch is recovering nicely from her recent illness.

Mrs. George Sims who was injured in an auto accident near Libertyville sometime ago and who has been at her home in Orland following her return from the hospital, has gone to the home of her son Harold Simms in Morgan Park to recuperate.

The Orland Park M. E. church congregation is having a two weeks vacation.

Floyd Cooper took part in the marimba band concert in the Court of the Hall of Science at the Chicago World's Fair the past week. The concert was broadcast Sunday night over the NBC hookup.

Sowing Winter Wheat Will Not Increase Chinch Bugs

There is little evidence to show that stopping the growing of winter wheat will stop chinch bug damage according to Will County Farm Advisor Braham. In the past, it has been the farmers' experience that chinch bugs could be handled better in winter wheat than in any other small grain. In a year when chinch bugs are present in threatening numbers, winter wheat should be sown only on good land and in a moderate acreage.

The chinch bug does not pass the winter in any of the small grains, but in bunch-forming grasses, hedge rows, fence rows, and other shelters. It flies out in the spring fairly late, that is, when we have several days with a temperature of around 70 for several hours during the day. The old bugs will go to the most attractive small grains in the neighborhood. They seem to prefer barley and spring wheat above all other small grains and then in about the order named: winter wheat, rye, and oats. There will always be some exceptions to the preference shown as thin stands of any of the small grains are much more attractive than dense growths of other more favored food plants. Barley and spring wheat, however, are the most favored. If there is no winter wheat in a neighborhood, the bugs will fly to the oats and in nearly all cases will cause much more serious damage to them than to moderately good stands of winter wheat. Because of the later maturity of the oats, the bugs are more difficult to trap and kill by barriers around oats fields than is the case around wheat fields.

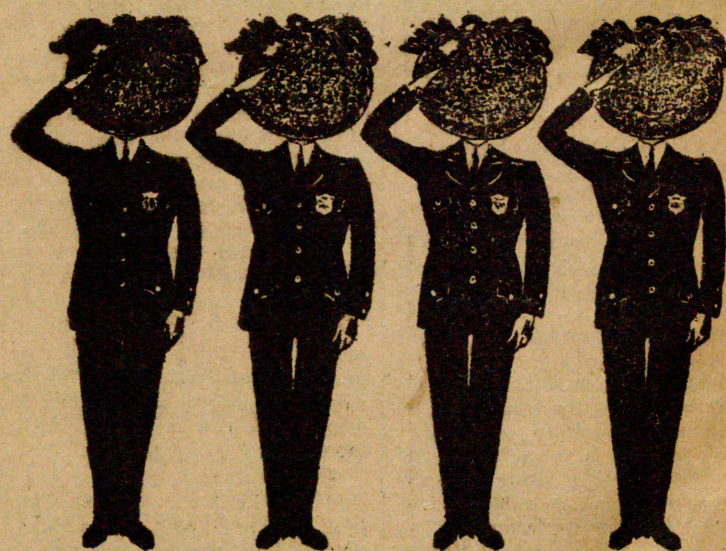

If there is no spring grain in a neighborhood, the bugs will go to grassy fields. If such fields are plowed and put in corn, the corn is almost sure to be destroyed and there is no satisfactory method of preventing such destruction.

In the past chinch bug outbreaks we have had experience with several areas where wheat growing was discontinued but where there was no reduction in oats acreage. These areas suffered just as badly or rather worse than did those where a moderate amount of winter wheat was grown.

For these reasons it would seem that nothing will be gained, far as reducing chinch bug damage, by ceasing to grow winter wheat providing, as above stated, the wheat is sown in moderate acreage and only on good ground using good seed. Thin poor stands of any of the small grains are always more attractive to the chinch bugs.

Because of the fact that barley and spring wheat are more highly favored as food by the chinch bug, and also that the bugs will cause serious damage to these grains when feeding upon them, it does not seem advisable to plant either of these grains in an area where chinch bugs are known to be hibernating in large numbers.

Trusty Tomatoes

YOU can rely on tomatoes every time to add a touch of color and a tang of appetizing taste to almost any dish except desserts. Tomatoes have a distinct individuality and prefer to appear in the other courses of a meal. With meats they add that touch which makes them a different and more palatable dish. Take, for instance, this

Louisiana Pot Roast: Stick six cloves into a one and one-quarter pound piece of chunk rump roast, and sear thoroughly on all sides in a deep heavy kettle or pot in a little fat or drippings. Add one small sliced onion and one-half a shredded green pepper, and cook a moment. Then add the contents of one 10-ounce can of tomatoes and water enough to about half cover the meat. Add salt and pepper, and bring to boiling. Cover and simmer gently until tender. Remove meat, and thicken the liquid in pan with a little flour smoothed with water. Pour over meat and serve. Serves four, and costs less than fifty cents.

Savory in Soup

And this soup would never taste the same without the addition of the trusty tomatoes:

Clam and Tomato Chowder: Combine one 10-ounce can of Manhattan Style clam chowder with the contents of a 10-ounce can of tomatoes, heat and serve with crackers. This serves four, and costs about a quarter.*

MOKENA

Erhardt Oswald is a proud gardener. He is now gathering large fine strawberries.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weedon and family attended the World's Fair Saturday.

Mrs. John Horras attended the funeral of her aunt in Chicago Tuesday.

A seven pound 10 ounce son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gaddis Sunday, August 20th. The young man will be named Bruce Gregory Gaddis. All are doing nicely.

Clifford Mahoney attended the World's Fair Saturday.

Miss Elizabeth Krusemark returned to Mokena last week, from her home in Minnesota.

Mrs. John Horras and son Jack left Wednesday with friends from Chicago for a trip to Niagara Falls.

Mrs. Dorothy Mau and sons have been enjoying a vacation trip in Wisconsin with relatives.

S. J. Eakle well known former Mokena school teacher who has been visiting with Mokena friends and attending the World's Fair, returned to his home in Polo, Illinois, Saturday evening.

Mr. Eakle enjoyed renewing old acquaintances and meeting some of his former pupils.

He was quite surprised that Roy Krapp, one of his former students, is now a school director.

On Friday Mr. Eakle met Mr. Flaherty also a former principal of the Mokena public school and then also met Mr. John, the new principal of the Mokena school. This was a meeting of the past and the future pedagogues. All enjoying the meet.

The village streets which were dressed with crushed rock are now being top dressed with screenings, which are being hauled from Joliet by Henry Yunker. Second street running from the Harry Mail corner east to Division street was top dressed first. Work is being carried on the other streets now. The streets improvement is much appreciated, not only by the property owners along these streets, but by the public as well.

Thru error it was stated that Alvin Sorensen had undergone an operation for the removal of tonsils, but the operation was for the removal of a goiter.

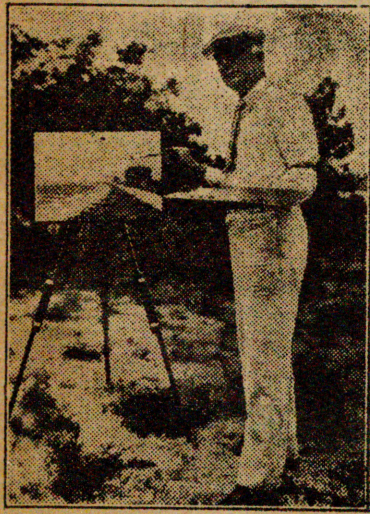

Quite a number of Mokena folks have been attending the "Days of '49" exhibit at the World's Fair of which Don C. Hall of Mokena is the "mayor".

Mr. and Mrs. Everett J. Cooper left Monday morning on an auto trip to Wisconsin to spend their vacation at the home of the latter's parents.

Mrs. Frank Hirsch, Sr., who was recently stricken with a paralytic stroke, is improving slowly.

Mrs. Molly Jackson continues to show improvement following her siege of illness.

Painting Is Hobby of First Telephone Maker

Thomas A. Watson painting at his summer home.

Dr. Thomas A. Watson, who made the first telephone for Alexander Graham Bell and who was his assistant at the time, is now in his seventy-ninth year, and is still hale and hearty. He makes his home in Boston, but has a winter residence on the island of Pass-a-Grille, in the Gulf of Mexico, about twelve miles from St. Petersburg, Fla.

Although he has retired from all active work, Dr. Watson is not content to remain idle, and within recent years he has taken up painting as a hobby. Much of his time he spends enjoying this hobby in his winter home, which occupies the very tip of the low lying island and near where the boats pass in and out of Tampa Bay. When he recently built his house there, he included a platform on the roof for observation, the boundless beauty of the sky, the white sweep of the coast line, and the tortuous lines of the receding bayous on the east providing him with inspiration for his canvases.

IT will pay you to get our prices before you order

SALE BILLS

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Braun, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hentsch and Clinton Kraus visited the world's fair Sunday.

CARD OF THANKS

We sincerely thank all relatives, neighbors and friends for their many acts of kindness and sympathy accorded us during the illness and death of our beloved wife and mother; we also wish to thank Rev. Ralph Gray, Mrs. Groves and Mrs. Fred Werner for their songs and music and all those sending floral offerings and those who so kindly donated the use of their automobiles.

A. C. HALL AND FAMILY

NEW LENOX

A group of friends surprised Miss Velma Krohn Thursday night at a party in honor of her eighteenth birthday. Many gifts were presented to the celebrant. Refreshments were served at a late hour by the mother of the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Eirlich are the parents of a son, born Friday morning.

Mrs. Elsie Smith McClure, her brother Mr. Smith who is here from the West and Jean McClure motored to Urbana, Illinois the past week. Miss McClure spent several days in the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Perry McClure.

Mrs. Gordon Taylor spent several days last week with relatives in Decatur, Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lorber and son Donald of Davenport, Iowa are guests in the home of Mrs. Lillian McCleary.

The grade school band under the direction of Prof. Otto Mattei gave its third open air concert Wednesday evening north of the Colonial Hall. Solo numbers were played by Emil Ascher, Otis Taylor, C. J. Roberts, Margaret Benson, A. F. Wendland, Harold Bennett and J. C. Harper.

Mrs. Fred A. Francis and son Charles and Miss Henrietta Farrer attended the 82nd birthday anniversary of the former's mother, Mrs. Eliza V. Clow, Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Clow in Wheatland.

Mr. Fred Francis and Fred, Jr., are attending the state fair at Springfield this week where Fred, Jr., is showing calves in the 4-H Calf Club exhibit.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hammond and sons of Yellow Springs, Ohio, and Mrs. Sarah Dingle of Clyde, Ohio, were guests of the Rev. and Mrs. John Dingle during the past week.

Miss Dorothy McCleary is visiting relatives in Davenport and Letts, Iowa.

PROBATE NOTICE

ESTATE of Henry Ritzman, Deceased.

The undersigned having been appointed Administrator of the estate of Henry Ritzman, late of Manhattan, in the County of Will and State of Illinois, deceased, hereby gives notice that he will appear before the Probate Court of Will County, at the Court House in Joliet, at the November Term, on the first Monday in November next (being the sixth day of said month), at which time all persons having claims against said estate are notified and requested to attend for the purpose of having the same adjusted. All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment to the undersigned.

Dated this 25th day of August, A. D. 1933.

LUEBBE ALBERS, Administrator, as aforesaid.
Albert H. Krusemark, Attorney

8, 25, 9, 1-8-15

PROBATE NOTICE

ESTATE of Raymond Ritzman, Deceased.

The undersigned having been appointed Administrator of the estate of Raymond Ritzman, late of Manhattan, in the County of Will and State of Illinois, deceased, hereby gives notice that he will appear before the Probate Court of Will County, at the Court House in Joliet, at the November Term, on the first Monday in November next (being the sixth day of said month), at which time all persons having claims against said estate are notified and requested to attend for the purpose of having the same adjusted. All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment to the undersigned.

Dated this 25th day of August, A. D. 1933.

LUEBBE ALBERS, Administrator, as aforesaid.
Albert H. Krusemark, Attorney

8, 25, 9, 1-8-15

PROBATE NOTICE

ESTATE of LENA BANKOW, DECEASED.

The undersigned having been appointed Administrators of the estate of LENA BANKOW late of Frankfort, in the County of Will and State of Illinois, deceased, hereby give notice that they will appear before the Probate Court of Will County, at the Court House in Joliet, at the October Term, on the first Monday in October next (being the Second day of said month), at which time all persons having claims against said estate are notified and requested to attend for the purpose of having the same adjusted. All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment to the undersigned.

Dated this 4th day of August, A. D. 1933.

HENRY KNATER, JOHN BANKOW, Administrators, as aforesaid.
ALBERT H. KRUSEMARK, Attorney.

Police Co-operative Advocated For Cook County

The executive committee of the Suburban Area and Country Towns Association has arranged for a committee of nine police chiefs of Cook county to work with the Public Relations committee, Mayor Frank Kasten of Blue Island as chairman, to arrange a Police Co-operative plan which will result in the complete policing of the suburban area of Cook county on a comprehensive plan.

The fiasco which resulted in alleged kidnappers getting away from the largest cordon of police ever to go on a man hunt in Cook county last week at Twenty-second street and Wolf road in Proviso township has brought down upon the persons responsible for the fiasco criticism. It has been contended from all sides that had the suburban police adjacent to the territory involved been consulted in the first place and men who were familiar with the territory placed in charge, the fiasco would not have occurred. But it is further pointed out that the local police were not called into the man hunt until after the Chicago, County and national authorities had failed.

The association has decided upon the policy of consulting with the heads of the various municipalities before asking the co-operation of the various chiefs. It is felt advisable not to go over these local heads in any matters that may arise. If their respective mayors are willing the following chiefs of police will be invited to join in the formation of a county chiefs organization to take the lead in the county-wide police plan: Chiefs R. H. Bailey, Maywood; W. M. Peterson, Winnetka; Harold W. Johnson, Park Ridge; William O. Freeman, Evanston; Carl W. Soderlin, River Forest; Benjamin Barsena Oak Park; William Hankey, Blue Island; George Swason, Harvey; John T. Shupryt, Calumet City.

The Judiciary committee under the direction of President William Brooks Moulton of Winnetka, proposes to study the definite responsibility of the villages and cities to their policemen when they are called out of the city to perform police duties and to suggest a plan whereby they can aid other communities in police service without sacrifice of their pension and indemnity rights.

At the last meeting of the executive committee additional proposals were offered for the guidance of the program committee in charge of legislation which may be presented at the next session of the legislature for the betterment of the conditions under which the suburban area towns now function. Among these was the proposal that the election of the treasurer and village or city clerk be abolished and these officials should be appointed by the mayor and council or president and village board.

It was also proposed that the method of taxation for municipal control should be constructed in such a way that the burden be alleviated for some of the property owners, and that all those who have a vote for the expenditure of public funds should in some direct way pay for the money they vote to expend in behalf of all the citizens of any community.

Limitation of Taxes

To 1 per cent of Full Property Value Urged

"No one civic organization of property owners is able to solve Cook County's tax muddle, there must be concerted action by every group toward a single objective: limitation of taxes to 1% of the full value of property." This was the declaration of Walter A. Dienhart, president of the Tax Service Association of Illinois, in an address to delegates of the Cook County Civic Council at last Thursday night's (August 17) assembly. Mr. Dienhart urged the Council to enlist the co-operation of all taxpayer organizations. The Association headed by Mr. Dienhart recently brought its 3,000 members into the Council's fold.

A proposal to invite the 28,000 members of the Association of Real Estate Taxpayers into affiliation with the Council through acceptable leaders is under consideration by a committee appointed by President Stetler. The Association's officers were suspended by the Board of Directors in January and subsequently enjoined by the court from conducting the Association's affairs.

The great majority of the Association's members, who pioneered in the County's tax litigation, are also members of local civic organizations and many are already indirectly represented in the Council. The Council's leaders believe that the Association members should be asked to enlist under the Council's banner.

The fight for reduction and limitation of taxes and an equitable distribution of the tax load will be won by the home owners themselves, and not through any efforts of high-salaried executives, according to opinions expressed by the Council's leaders. One former officer of the Association received $20,000 salary per year, it was pointed out, in contrast to the volunteer work by the Council's delegates. The Council was successful in pushing a 1% tax bill through the Senate in June, and is now helping individual taxpayers by discovering and eliminating errors in building valuations that are the cause of excessive tax bills.

A schedule of talks by William Donne, Illinois manager of the Home

Owner's Loan Corporation, has been sponsored by the Council in co-operation with neighborhood civic organizations.

R. H. Carmichael

TINLEY PARK, ILLINOIS
Physician and Surgeon

Office Hours:
7 to 8 p. m. Morning by Appointment
Sundays by Appointment
Hours 8 to 10 a. m. 7 to 9 p. m.
Telephone Tinley Park 73

IF YOU SMOKE TOO MUCH

WATCH YOUR STOMACH
For quick relief from indigestion and upset stomach due to excessive smoking try Dr. Emil's Adla Tablets. Don't stop smoking, just use Adla Tablets. Leading Druggist—In Tinley Park by H. C. Vogt.

ADVERTISE your merchandise and it will sell!

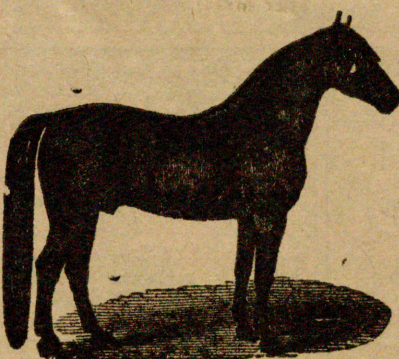

- WANTED -

Old Horses which cannot be used for farm purposes to be sent to the Fox Farm in N. Wis. Need 200 Head

PAY HIGHEST PRICE
Mail Orders Given Prompt Attention
Write Call or Phone

Chas. Levy & Sons,

Horse and Cattle Buyers, Tel. Prospect 5615
6801 So. Oakley Avenue, CHICAGO

Man, put a stop to this—this is the twentieth century

To prove that every home can afford to heat with gas... we will install it at our expense and remove it at our expense, if you don't like it.

THIS back-breaking toil is only part of the job of tending fires! There's those extra cold days when she toils up and down the basement stairs. Nursing the fire. Worrying that it might go out. Trying vainly to keep even heat. Cleaning, endlessly cleaning dusty grime and soot from walls, curtains, furniture. And you do your part, too. You shovel coal. Drag out ashes. Split kindling. End this old-fashioned heating method by installing gas heat in your home at once.

Get the pleasure of living in modern times with the invisible servant, gas heat, to take over all your furnace troubles.

Every home can afford it

All homes—even the most modest, can now afford clean, automatic gas heat. Rates are less than one-half those of 1930-31. You've always wanted gas heat. Now you can have it. We make it possible for you to try it in your own home without making an investment of one cent in equipment. We're that sure you'll want it forever when you know from experience its reasonable cost—its great advantages.

Just tell us that you want to try gas heat. We will install the equipment in your furnace or boiler and pay every cent of the cost. During the nine heating months of the first year you pay $3.00 a month rental for the equipment in the average home. This charge will be included with your monthly gas bill. You pay nothing during the three summer months.

If at any time during the first year you decide that you don't want gas heat you order it out. And out it comes. We replace your former equipment in the same or better condition than we found it. If you decide you want to keep gas heat, the rental you paid applies on the purchase price of the equipment. No other fuel makes you such an offer. Take advantage of it at once.

Now in effect
NEW LOW COST for Heating Homes with GAS

YOU INVEST NOTHING!

Without ONE CENT of investment by you, we install the most modern burner in your furnace or boiler. If you are satisfied, it stays. If not—and you are the sole judge—out it comes and your former heating system is re-installed—AT OUR EXPENSE. No other fuel for house-heating dares make such an offer.

DON'T DELAY—MAIL THE COUPON

PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY
OF NORTHERN ILLINOIS

Please send me full information about heating my home with Gas.

Name.....

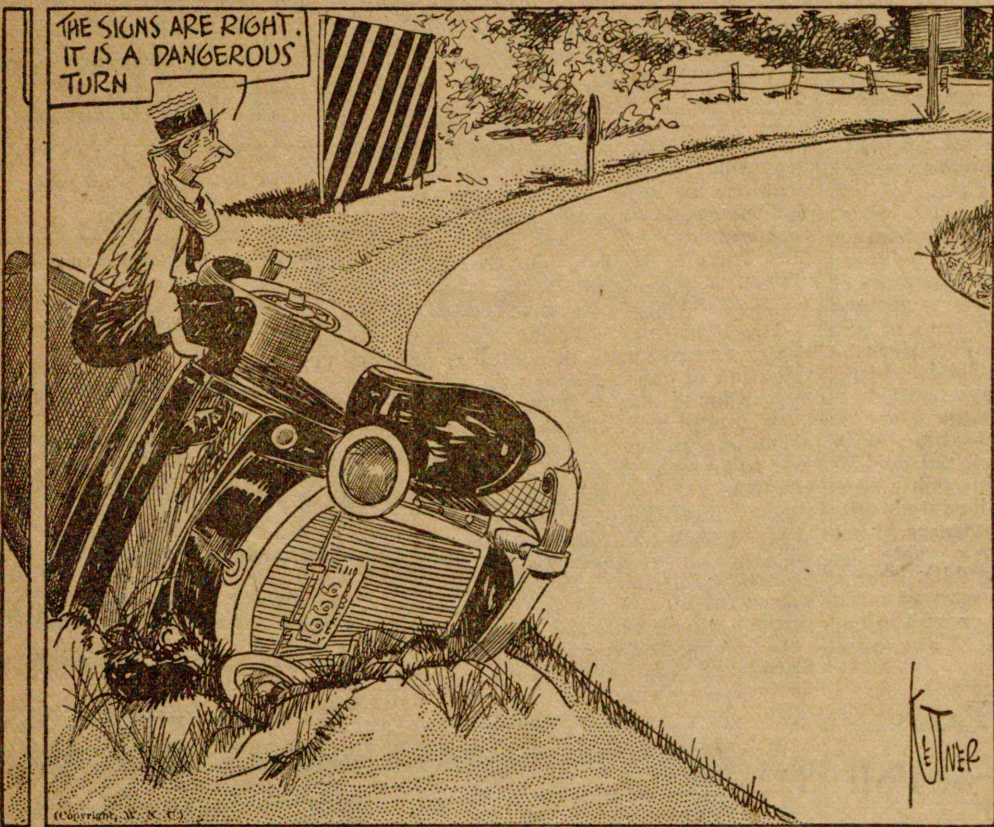

Address.....

City..... Phone No.....

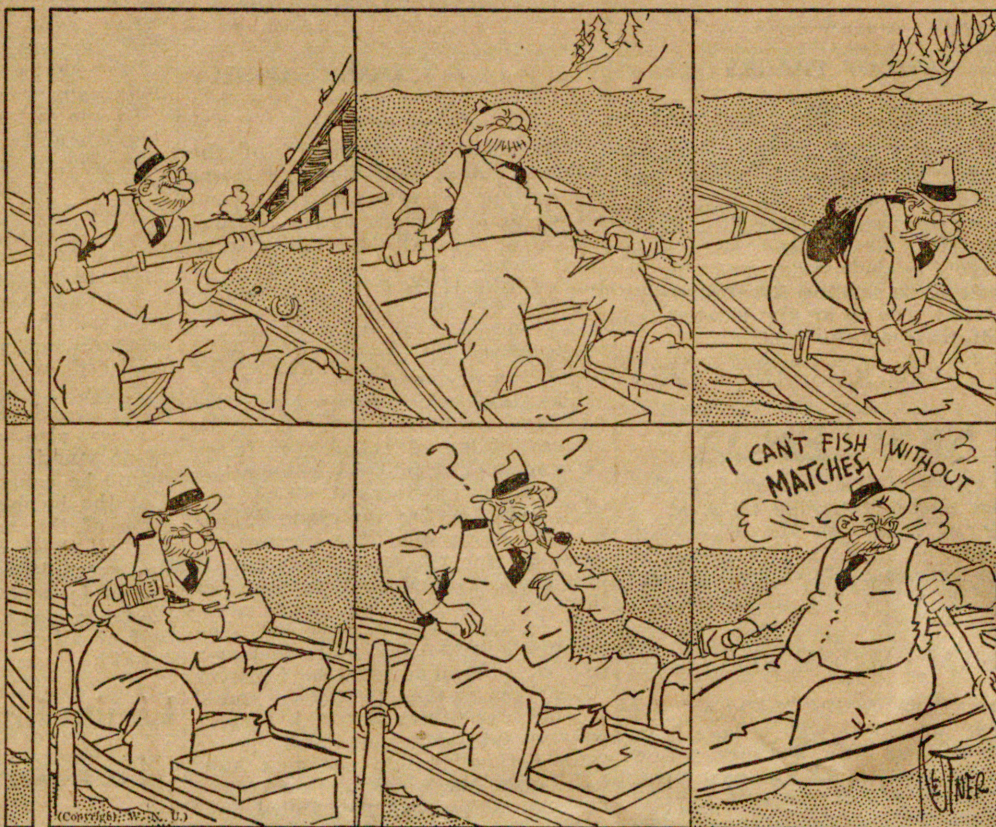

Important! Mail coupon to House Heating Division of your nearest Public Service Company office or to Public Service Company, 72 W. Adams St., Chicago, Illinois.

House Heating Division
PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY
OF NORTHERN ILLINOIS

Along the Concrete

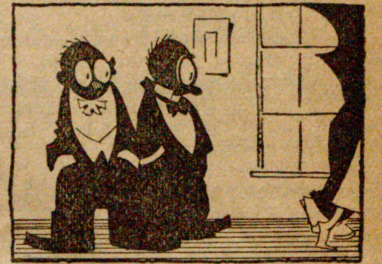

Our Pet Peeve

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

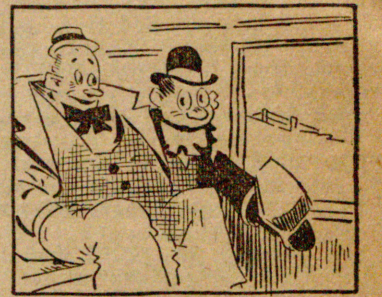

I like to dine in grand hotels
With folks of wealth or great renown,
And every now and then I do
When our rich uncle comes to town.
R. J. CANN

RESULTS

"How long have they been married?"
"About five years."
"Did she make him a good wife?"
"No, but she made him an awfully good husband."

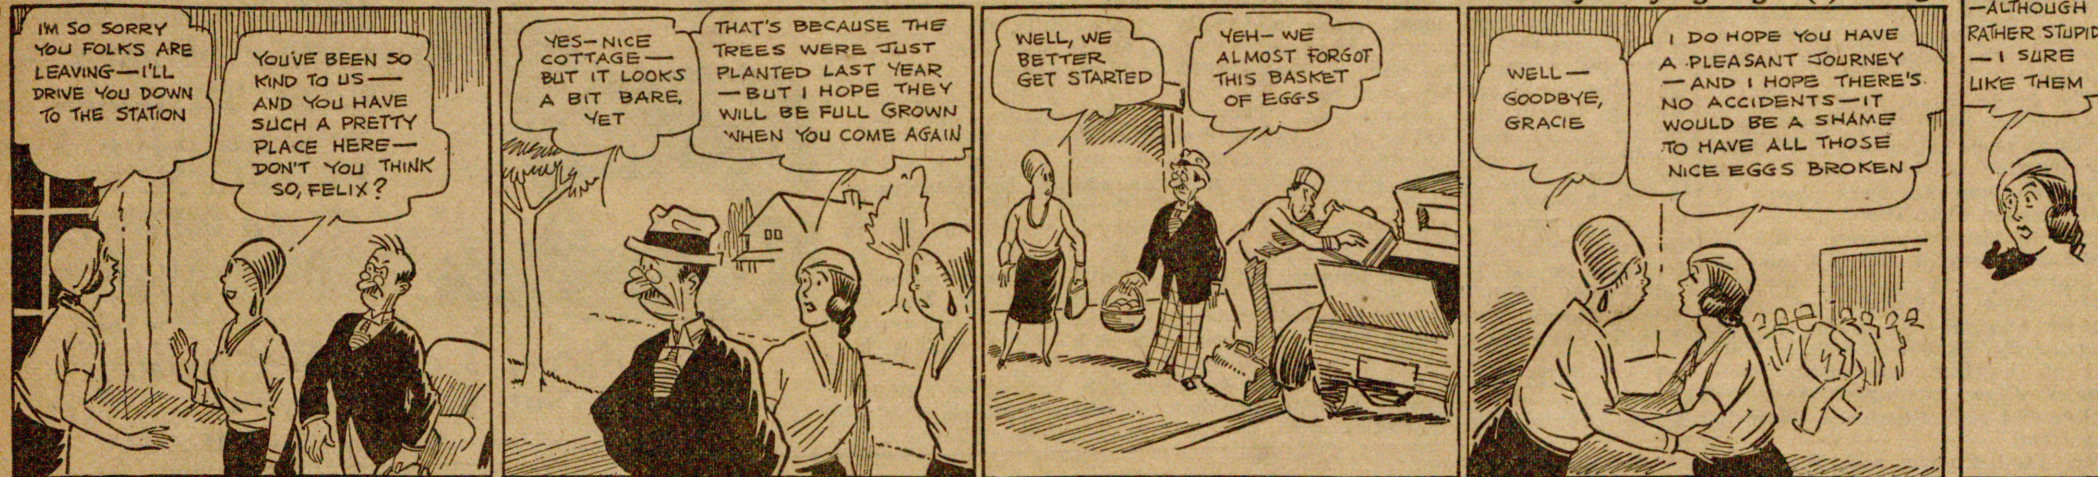

CLUCK, CLUCK, CLUCK

"Going to have a good garden this summer?"
"Don't know yet. Are you raising chickens?"

THE FEATHERHEADS

By Osborne
© Western Newspaper Union

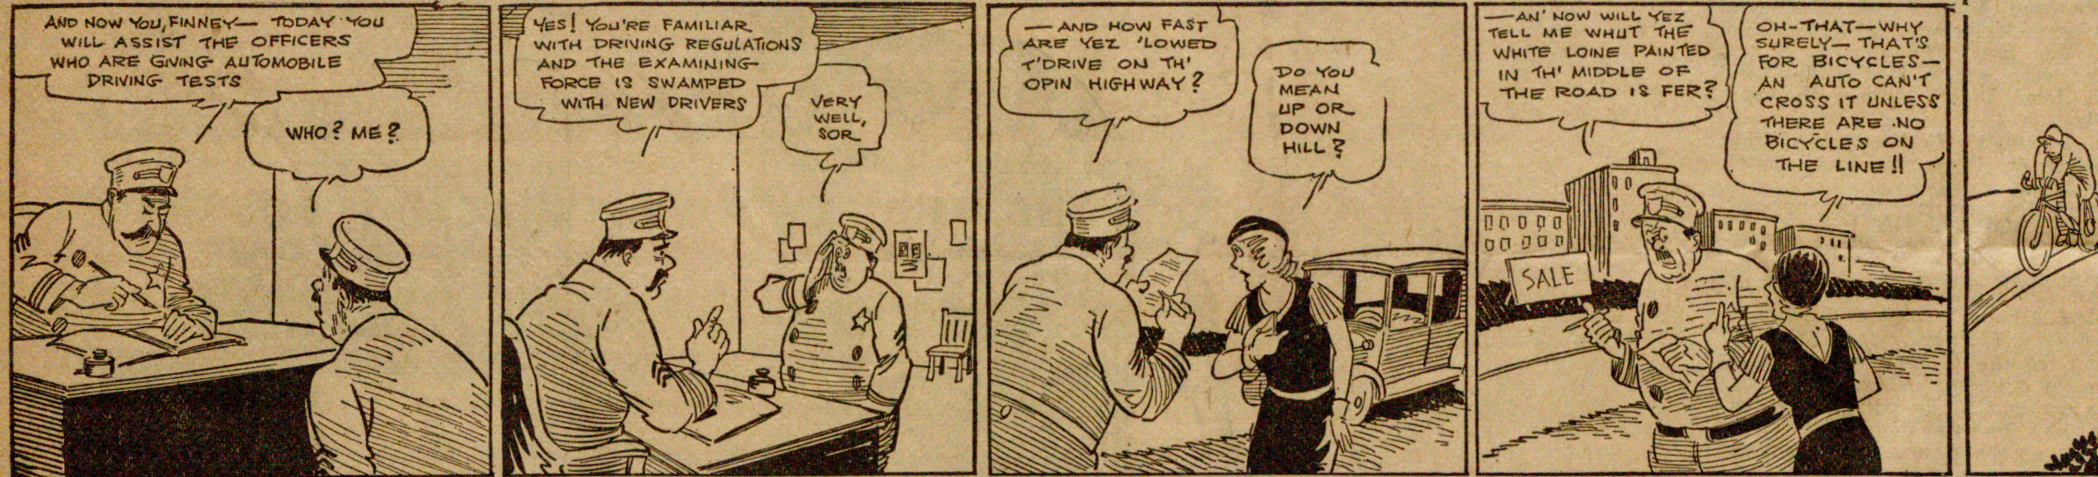

Always Saying Right (?) Thing

NICE PEOPLE—ALTHOUGH RATHER STUPID—I SURE LIKE THEM

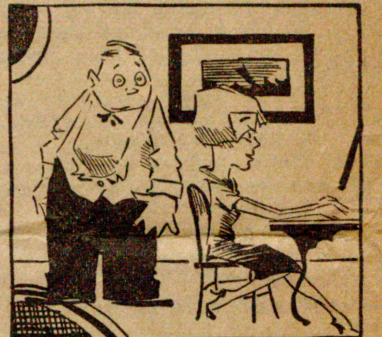

FINNEY OF THE FORCE

By Ted O'Loughlin
© Western Newspaper Union

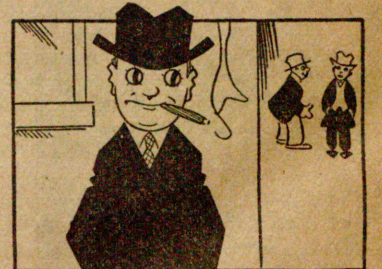

The Narrow Road—for Bikes

OR PAYS ALIMONY

Wifey—You know a man is judged by his clothes.
Hubby—Not if he's married.

OR GOLDEN ROD

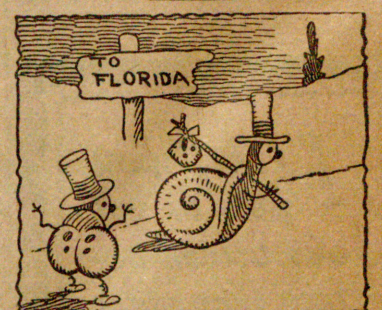

"Dobbs made his fortune in overshoes and now he talks about his family tree."
"Expect he means his rubber plant."

HIGHBROW

"Come on and go fishing with me."
"Aw, fishing is too rough a sport. There's mud and briars and rocks and wet boots."
"I see, your idea of fishing is to sit in a hotel lobby and angle for gold fish in a fountain."

TO BE ON TIME

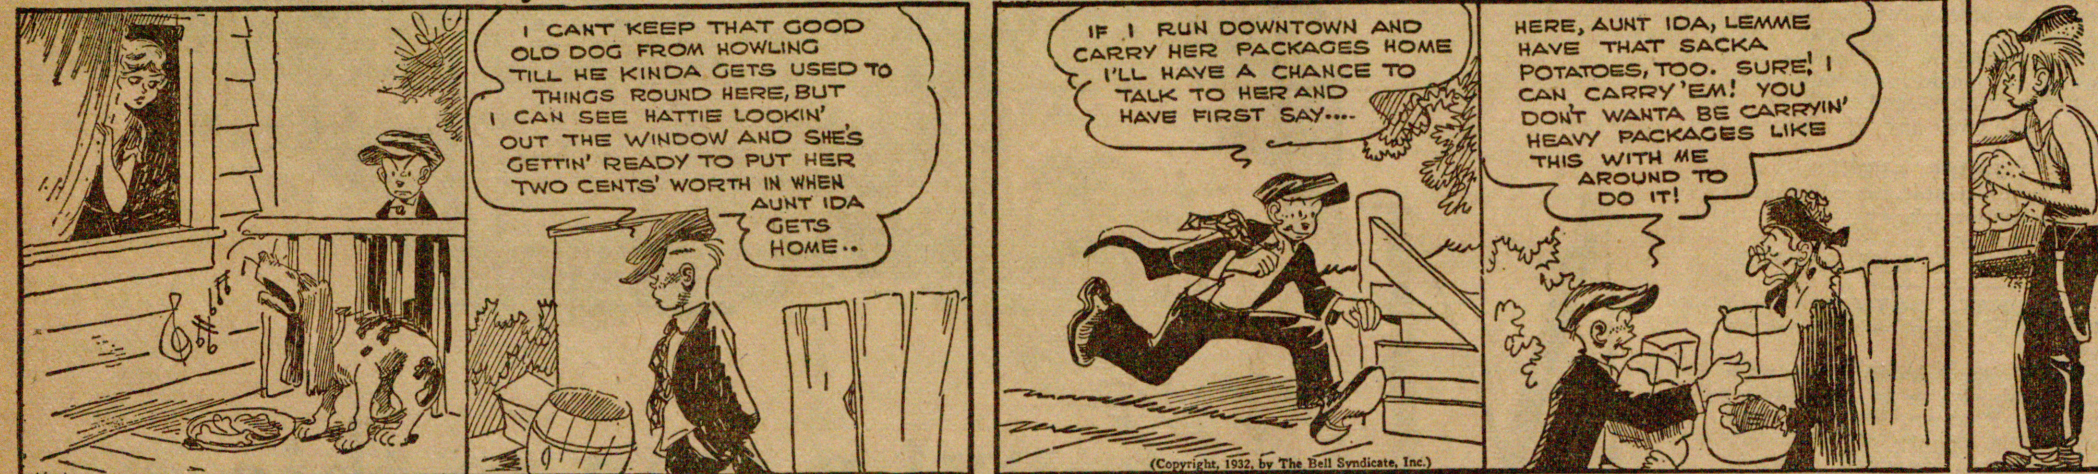

Bug—Say, where are you going? The Florida season is over.
Snail—Not for me. I'm on my way for the next season.

What He Said

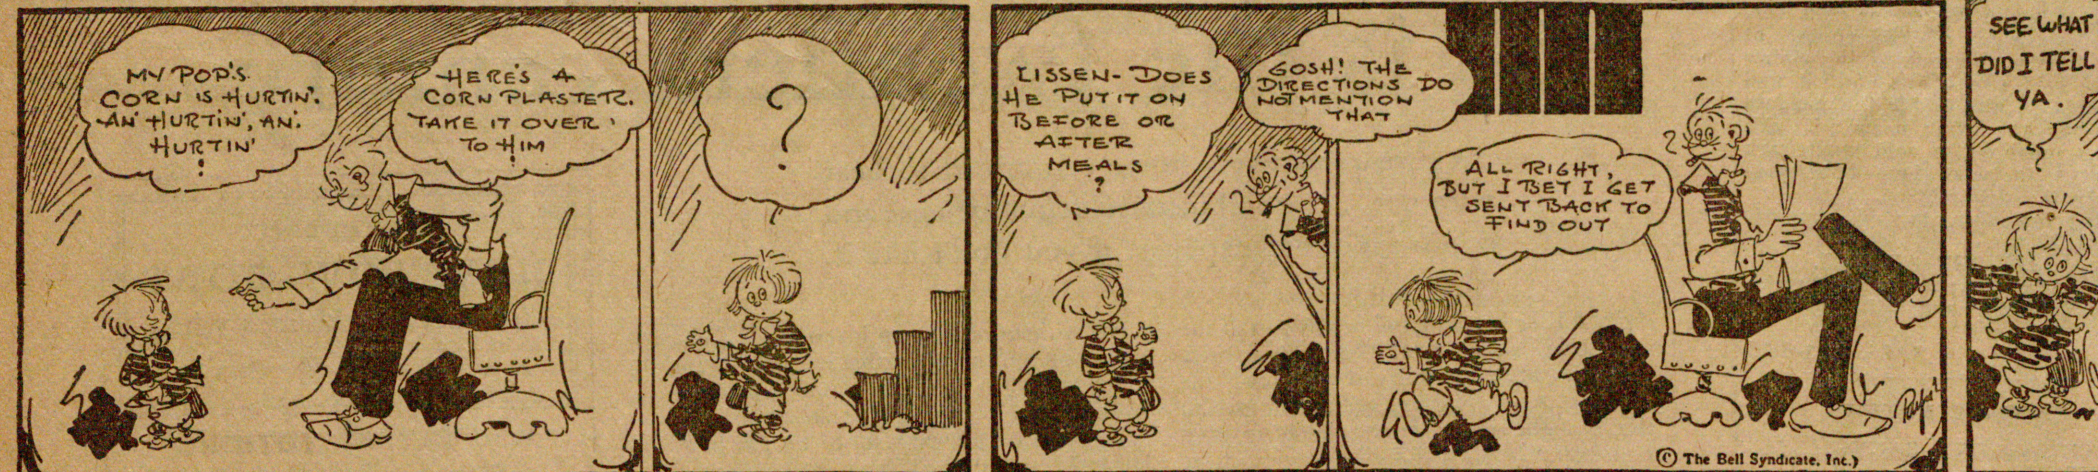

Lawyer—What did you say when you saw the automobile approach the railroad track?
Watchman—I said: "That's a fine car, wasn't it."—Chelsea Record.

BOBBY THATCHER—First Say!

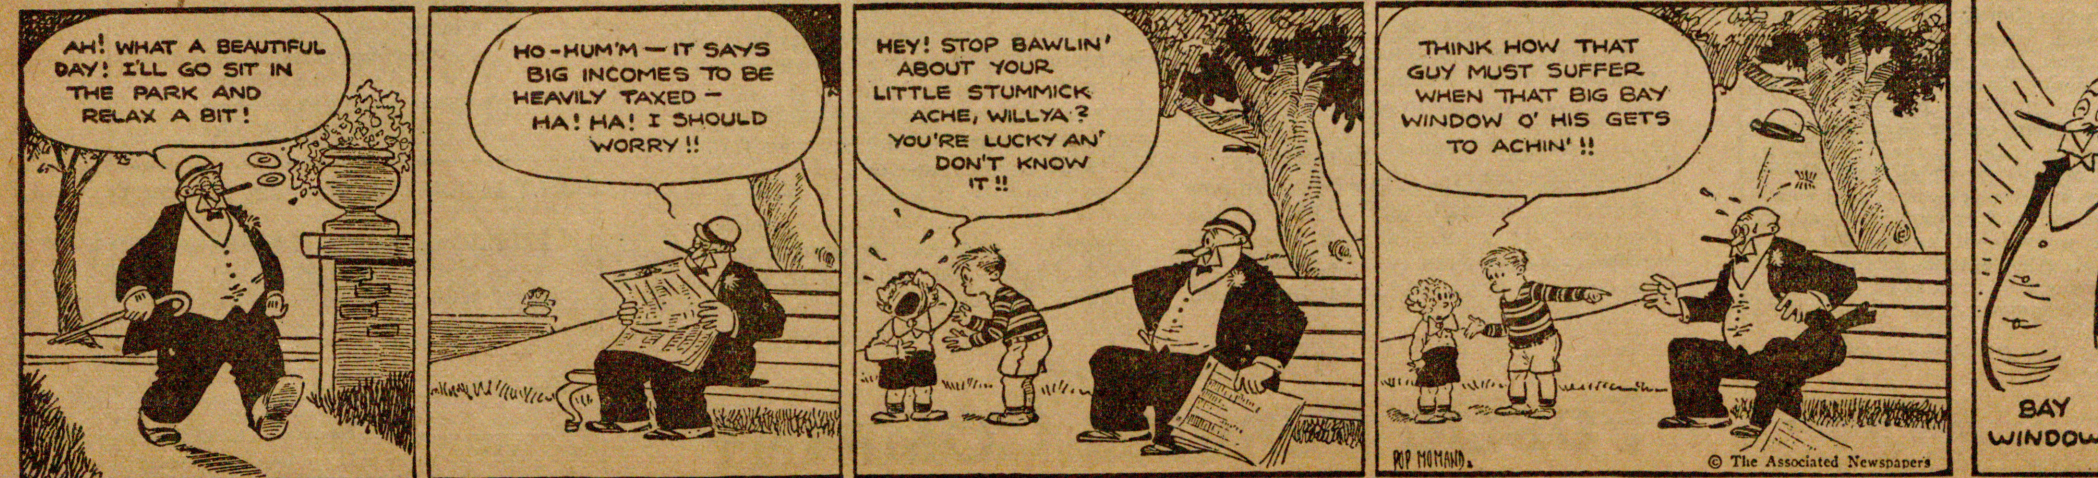

By GEORGE STORM

SMATTER POP—Ambrose's Pop Will Have to Guess At It

By C. M. PAYNE

"KEEPING UP WITH THE JONESES"

It's All Relative

OPERATION

By George Best

© 1933, McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
WNU Service

"THE biggest lemon as ever ran on a race-track." Portly "Zippy" Tanner, the Sunrise stable's trainer, indicated a chestnut gelding breezing along the rail on Latonia race track.

"Yea," grinned Pat Calhoun, the stable's contract jock, "and with Corky Milam on his back it's a lemon rode by a jinx."

"Jinx nothing," Zippy shook his head sadly. "Corky can ride. But his guts went in a spill and now he needs an opening big enough for a cavalry troop."

The trainer was right, and no one knew it better or more bitterly than Emil Milam, otherwise Corky, a nickname holding over from the days before the spill which his cry, "Pull over or I'll cork you," did not prevent.

Three months later doctors assured him he was again like new. But the old Corky was gone. Tolerant horsemen expected him to snap out of it, but when his riding showed no improvement, mounts became few and far between for Corky.

The "winner's circle" had once known Corky but that territory was unknown to Caesariah, the four-year-old which Corky's friend Slim Sanders had acquired for $75 in the paddock sale of two weeks ago. The chestnut gelding Caesariah, by Trumpeter, dam, Golden Bells, on workouts should have won many a race but finished out of the money in each. Six furlongs in 1:11 or a mile in 1:38 was nothing unusual for the gelding in the morning; but the races which pay off are run in the afternoon.

Corky, trainer and jock of Slim's one-horse racing stable, sat on a bale of straw by a stall door in poverty row; stables where the owners of one or two selling platters found quarters. In his hand was a telegram.

Genial Doctor Wurd, the jockey club's official veterinarian, ambled slowly down the shed row to make a call farther down the line, when Corky's yell halted his steps.

"Oh, Doc; read this, will you?"

Old Doc, towering above the rider's small form, took the message and stepping toward the light read its contents. Then came his deep-throated laugh.

"Congratulations, Corky," he boomed. "There is nothing to worry about in this."

"But it says they had to perform some kind of operation."

"What of that? Doesn't it say also the operation was successful? Mother and child doing fine." If there was any danger the hospital staff would surely inform you."

He turned to go but stopped once more.

"Slim's gelding is entered in tomorrow's stake, the Quickstep, isn't he?" he asked.

"He is," affirmed Corky. "But—"

"Well, you at least should make an effort to win that race after this." Old Doc tapped the paper in Corky's fingers. "I don't believe the horse is good enough but there is no harm in your trying."

Latonia, dressed in green and white, entertained the usual Saturday throng of race devotees. The horses entered in the fifth race, the Quickstep handicap, three-year-olds and up, distance one mile, were milling in front of the grandstand at the post.

Then—they're off!

The horses shot for the clubhouse turn urged on by bootheels and whips, each jockey trying for a contending position.

"Sure enough, going for the rail. That's you, boy," Corky's chuckling voice and a very light pull on the reins steadied the chestnut. "Fast Mail's in front; Traffic Light's second and we're third. No we're not; here comes Blue White. That's the baby," Corky, crouched way up on Caesariah's withers, crooned into the twitching ears of his mount, "let 'im go. Those saps'll run themselves dizzy; that half was run in '39 or I'm a Dutchman, and something's going to crack."

And if that happened—Corky nodded grimly to himself—he was sure to find tight quarters next to the rail, unless he took out while there was still time. But this was supposed to be the gelding's day—the rhythmic play of muscles against his legs told Corky the horse was all there—and Corky swore profane oath he'd not show the white feather.

At Corky's right was a thunder of hoofs, and a sorrel head, Fieldark's, nodded into view and came on. Fast Mail in front was all in and coming back. Traffic Light, "Dunk" up, urged on by his rider's whip, was squeezing through on the rail and Caesariah, Corky gritted his teeth and forced himself into sitting still, the doggone old fool, followed him like a pup—and—the rider's choked-in breath sighed relief—made it.

Then—was there a sign of faltering in Traffic Light's running? There was. Traffic Light was bearing out and Corky hunkering closer to his mount's neck inched over toward the rail.

"Yeeecceeahh! Pull over, Dunk, or I'll cork you," called Corky. Caesariah, startled by Corky's screech and feeling the sting of the lash, shot ahead. Corky's left foot scraped against the top rail of the infield fence; but they were through, and . . . The roar of the stands was like far-away thunder in Corky's ears as three horses and their riders flashed under the wire with a last muscle-straining effort. Had he won? Corky didn't know, it was close, mighty close.

Snorting and shaking his head, Caesariah, gulping air with wide extended nostrils, slowed to a walk, turned and cantered back to the judge's stand. The pagoda in the infield showed number three, Caesariah's number, in the one-hole and the numbers above read 1:38 1-5.

Fondly, exultingly, Corky patted the lathered neck of his mount.

The winner's circle once more knew Corky. He raised his whip saluting the judges, and Caesariah looked straight into their eyes.

Dismounting, Corky grinned at Slim. "You son-of-a-gun," said Slim, "you sure did it, but, boy, you blame near gave me heart failure when you went through that knothole on the rail."

"It was close," chuckled Corky, "but the old screech startled 'Dunk' into giving us room."

Two hours later the bale of straw in front of Caesariah's stall was supporting the forms of Corky and Slim. The gelding had cooled out nicely and was now contentedly munching hay out of a rack in a corner of his stall while the drone of a voice he knew came to his sensitive, twitching ears.

"As near as I can figure it out," said Corky, "Caesariah is under the impression a race must be run close to the rail. And working him out in the mornings I noticed whenever I pulled him up enough to make him change his stride, he took that to mean work was done for the day. Seems funny no one noticed it." Corky grinned, "but most exercise-boys in a millionaire's stable do what they're told to do and let it go at that. But if a jockey pulled him up during the race—and," Corky chuckled, "they naturally would—old Caesar being on the rail running nice and smooth it looked to them the thing to do—but if they did the race was over as far as Caesariah was concerned."

"And a little thing like that sold a good horse for seventy-five smackers," Slim wondered.

"Sure," Corky nodded and smiled dreamily, "it's the little things that count on the racetrack. And I figured if I'd let him run his own race and found enough guts to go through when an opening showed up there would be nothing to the race but Caesariah."

"Well, you sure found the guts," Slim exclaimed fervently, "and got us a sweet purse and a nice bet—both, mind you," there was a snap to Slim's voice, "to be divided fifty-fifty."

"I ain't argue'n," laughed Corky, "I can use the dough. The operation the sawbones performed on my wife is called Caesariah, and I guess that kind comes high."

"Don't ask me," chuckled Slim, "ask the bookies who are paying off on Caesariah."

Uncooked Pork Dangerous Unless Safely Processed

Eating of uncooked pork, always a dangerous method of using pig meat, still goes on despite the innumerable warnings of health experts of the danger of trichinosis. This parasite disease is often fatal to human beings and particularly so when the disease gains somewhat of a foothold before being diagnosed.

Federal inspection of pork products, both raw and cooked, provides safeguards against the parasite of trichinosis. These processes, whereby uncooked pork is rendered safe, are carefully tested before the stamp of governmental approval is given. Each is tried out in the laboratories with rats, guinea pigs and other test animals being fed the meat.

For the householder, however, the only safe method of preparing pork is through thorough cooking and the emphasis is decidedly on the word thorough.—Washington Star.

Man Intended for Long Life

The human race was originally intended to live for a thousand years if the theory of Prof. Robert L. Greene, head of the department of pharmacy at Notre Dame, is correct, says Pathfinder Magazine. Professor Greene, believes that the proper diet, consisting chiefly of fruits, vegetables, milk and water will enable persons even in these days to attain an age of at least 100 years. He bases his belief on the answers he receives to a questionnaire he sends to every person he hears of who has neared or turned the century mark. He believes that the processed foods of today are responsible for the shorter span of life.

Life on Mars?

Hiram Percy Maxim, who invented the silencer for guns, autos, and hospital windows, believes that Mars is inhabited by a race of beings much further advanced than the men of this earth. The design of the canals, he says, offers conclusive proof that they are artificial, and for works to be constructed on such a scale as to be visible from the earth would suggest a race of super-life, not necessarily in the form of man.

Czechs Get Comenius' Grave

By a treaty signed at The Hague, the grave of Comenius together with the Valonic chapel in Naarden in Holland has been made the national property of Czechoslovakia for eternity, writes a correspondent in the New York Times. For this long lease Czechoslovakia makes to the Dutch government a single payment of one Dutch gulden. Czechoslovakia will renovate and keep in good order the resting place of its great son.

JOY TO BE HAD IN "WORD BOOK"

Our language is a superb inheritance, blessed with richer variety of expression and implicit with a more ranging music than most other living tongues. It has pith, color and energy. Its flexibility and scope are enormous—as might be expected from a tongue dowered out of the precision and beauty of Greek, the rolling vowel music of Latin, the northern strains of Jelt, Angle and Saxon. Surely, as heirs to this bequest and as living contributors to it, we should not be content without exploring it. To do so would be like emulating the beggar, who, coming into a fortune, was satisfied with a few worn counters when the gold coin of the realm was his for the seeking.

In a century now long forgotten men and women were accustomed to keep what they described as "com monplace books"—notebooks in which one entered any quotations of prose or verse which seemed apposite, wise or endowed with beauty and felicity of expression. It was a happy idea. Any who desire to discover what effect it had upon the mind of an age might do well to explore a bit into Eighteenth century letters.

A word book, wherein one jots down any unfamiliar word he meets with in the reading of good books together with its verified meaning. will go far to rescue him from present afflictions that beset our language as it is written. Only one who has tried this expedient knows the fun it offers, the renewed sense of vitality in thought, the sharper edge given ideas and, simultaneously, the rapid growth of discriminative taste in reading.—Boston Globe.

Oils Life's Wheels
Politeness enables one to appear concerned if he is not.

Mercolized Wax

Keeps Skin Young

Absorb blemishes and discolorations using Mercolized Wax daily as directed. Invisible particles of aged skin are freed and all defects such as blackheads, tan, freckles and large pores disappear. Skin is then beautifully clear, velvety and so soft—face looks years younger. Mercolized Wax brings out your hidden beauty. At all leading druggists.

Powdered Saxolite

Reduces wrinkles and other age-signs. Simply dissolve one ounce Saxolite in half-pint witch hazel and use daily as face lotion.

PARKER'S HAIR BALM
Removes Dandruff Stops Hair Falling Imparts Color and Beauty to Gray and Faded Hair
60c and $1.00 at Druggists.
Hiscox Chem. Wks., Patchogue, N.Y.

FLORESTON SHAMPOO—Ideal for use in connection with Parker's Hair Balm. Makes the hair soft and fluffy. 50 cents by mail or at druggists. Hiscox Chemical Works, Patchogue, N.Y.

Cheapest and Best

Ask your dealer for Daisy Fly Killer. Placed anywhere, attracts and kills all flies. Neat, clean, convenient. Lasts all season. Made of metal. Can't spill or tip over. Can't soil or injure anything. Harold Somers, Inc., Brooklyn, N.Y.

DAISY FLY KILLER

WNU—A

ANTS DIE

Sprinkle Ant Food along window sills, doors and openings through which ants come and go. Guaranteed to rid quickly. Used in a million homes. Inexpensive. At your druggist's.

PETERMAN'S ANT FOOD

FREE Valuable Information. Every Automobile Owner buys. Costs 10c, sells 25c. Manufacture yourself. Details free, no catch. ALCO, 202 W. Gage, Los Angeles, Calif.

THRIFTY CAR OWNERS WROTE this CODE

THE THRIFTY CODE FOR TIRE BUYERS

I hereby promise to trade in my thin, worn, dangerous tires today and equip my car before prices advance again, with the Safest and Most Dependable Tires I can find.

They must have:

Every fiber in every High Stretch cord in every ply saturated and coated with pure liquid rubber, to give me Extra Blowout Protection.

They must have:

Two Extra Gum-Dipped Cord Plies Under the Tread for Greater Strength and Blowout Protection.

They must have:

Scientifically designed non-skid tread to give me EXTRA SAFETY.

Mr. Car Owner

MAKE the Thrifty Code—your Code. Raw materials, commodities and wages are up—and going higher. When you know tire prices are going higher—it's smart to Buy Now and Save.

REMEMBER—Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires hold all world records on road and track for Safety, Speed, Mileage and Endurance.

Drive in today—we'll save you money and serve you better.

THE NEW Firestone SUPER OLDFIELD TYPE

Built to equal all first line standard brand tires in quality, construction and appearance, but lower in price—another Firestone achievement in saving money for car owners.

Ford Chevrolet 4.50-21	$7.10	Buick Chevrolet Ford Nash Plymouth Rockne 5.25-18	$9.00
Ford Chevrolet Plymouth 4.75-19	$7.55	Studebaker Auburn 5.50-19	10.15
Nash Essex 5.00-20	$8.35

Other Sizes Proportionately Low

THE MASTERPIECE OF TIRE CONSTRUCTION

THE New Firestone SEALTYE Leakproof TUBE

Firestone Aquapuf Brake Lining
As Low $2.40
As Relining Charges Extra

Firestone Spark Plugs Save Gasoline
58c Each in Sets

We will test your Spark Plugs Free

Dependable Firestone Batteries
$5.60 and your old battery
We will test any make of Battery FREE

3 LINES of TIRES with Firestone NAME and GUARANTEE

Built with Superior Quality and Construction Yet Priced as LOW as Special Brands and Mail Order Tires

Firestone OLDFIELD TYPE	Firestone SENTINEL TYPE	Firestone COURIER TYPE
Ford Chevrolet 4.50-21	Ford Chevrolet 4.50-21	Ford Chevrolet 4.50-21
$6.30	$5.65	$3.45
Ford Chevrolet Plymouth 4.75-19	Ford Chevrolet Plymouth 4.75-19	Ford Chevrolet Plymouth 4.75-19
$6.70	$6.05	$4.25
Nash Essex 5.00-20	Nash Essex 5.00-20	Nash Essex 5.00-20
$7.45	$7.30	$3.60

Other Sizes Proportionately Low

Other Sizes Proportionately Low

Other Sizes Proportionately Low

See Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires made in the Firestone Factory and Exhibition Building at "A Century of Progress" Chicago

Firestone

Go to your local Firestone Service Dealer or Service Store—Buy today before prices go higher

THE NEWS-BULLETIN
WM. SEMMLER, Editor & Publisher
Published Every Friday at
MOKENA, ILLINOIS

Entered as second class matter at the postoffice at Mokena, Illinois, under the act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE.
Per year, in advance$1.50
Six months, in advance75

A. M. Levy, Advertising Representative, 6 North Michigan ave., Chicago

FRIDAY, AUGUST 25, 1933

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Two good milk cows, 1 fresh with calf, 1 to be fresh in two weeks. Both red and white cows on high milk test. Sam E. Zalk, 1 mile southeast of Mokena on the Gee farm. 1cL

FOR SALE—Duroc Jersey brood sows due to farrow in Sept. J. M. Yunker, Orland, Ill. Tel. 52-M2 2tp

FOR RENT—160 acre farm in Frankfort township; equipped for milk shipping. For particulars write to Mrs. F. Wischhover, 7734 Aberdeen St., Chicago, Ill. 2tp

FOR RENT—160 acre dairy farm. Good buildings. Inquire James Fulton, Tinley Park, Ill. Tel. 19-J 2tc

WANTED—Practical nursing work. Will take any case. Edith Mau, Mokena, Ill. Phone 28-J 2mtf

A young boy 17, energetic and willing to work and to learn, needs work. Any kind. Anyone who could use this lad, see Editor News-Bulletin

FOR RENT—5 room flat with heated bathroom. Inquire James Fulton, Tinley Park, Ill. Tel. 19-J 2tc

FOR RENT MODERN HOUSE with garage. Enquire, Mrs. C. Baumgartner, Frankfort, Ill. 2tc

FOR SALE BROODER and incubator and 25 laying hens cheap. Mr. La Mack, Cor. 170th and New England Ave., Tinley Park, Ill. 2tp

"STOP" "LOOK" FLOOR SAMPLES. $150.00 Philco Eleven tube radios while they last, only $69.00 also Maytag washers, only $69.50 BETTENHAUSEN RADIO SHOP, 13021 So. Western Ave., Blue Island, Ill.

FOR SALE—Beginning the first of next week, cucumbers and tomatoes Albert Zenke, 155th and 108th ave. Orland Park, Ill. 1f

FOR SALE—Jersey milk cows. Louis Dickman, 155th & Laramie Sts., Tinley Park, Ill. 2p.

FOR RENT—Business place front half of Detweiler's store, 17363, 67th Court. J. Detweiler, Tinley Pk.

FOR RENT—120 acres. 155th and Central Ave., A. A. Fulton, Tinley Park, Ill. 4tp

PETROLEUM NUT COKE $8.50 A ton. Slack $6.25 a ton. Minimum 3 ton load. Prices apply Tinley Park, Oak Forest and Midlothian.

We can also save you money on Used Lumber. 2X4 and 2X6 sheeting and flooring $18.00 and up per 1000 square feet. All prices subject to change without notice. MUTUAL LUMBER AND SUPPLY CO., Blue Island, Ill., Tel. B. I. 14 2p

Question Wonder Girl of Radio Fame

Meet me personally at my cottage on the Lincoln highway in New Lenox, where I will be pleased to advise concerning problems that perplex you just as I did over the radio for two years.

PRIVATE PHONE, NEW LENOX 6

Old World Charm

Here is the watch tower of the Belgian Village at A Century of Progress, the Chicago World's Fair. Thousands of visitors daily through the buildings and cobble-stone streets of this reproduction of seventeenth-century community with its old-world charm and quaintness.

MOKENA

Mrs. Harry Schoen and daughters left last Wednesday for a visit with her relatives in So. Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hacker and grandson Geo. Vally have gone to Michigan on a motor trip. Mr. Hacker is improving from his recent illness.

Miss L. Myrick and Miss Flora Jackson of Morgan Park spent Thursday with their cousin and sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Jackson.

To Hold Wheat

Meetings at B. I.

Two mass meetings of wheat growers and others interested in the details of the program as being carried out under the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act are to be held in Cook County, Wednesday, August 30th at 8 p. m., in Elk's Hall, 13046 Western Ave., at Blue Island and Thursday evening, August 31st at 8 p. m., in the village hall at Arlington Heights.

TINLEY PARK

Miss Mayme Moilane of Lake Forest was the honored guest at a birthday party held in honor of her birthday Wednesday afternoon given by Frieda Hollwedel. Sixteen guests were present. Bunco was played. Delicious refreshments were served.

The Tinley Park R. N. A., had their regular and social meeting on Tuesday night. All officers were present except endurance, Mrs. Ceit-hamel was the guest of the evening. She has resigned and has moved to Chicago. This being her last meeting the neighbors were sorry to lose her. After the meeting refreshments were served. The tables were beautifully decorated with garland and wild flowers. A big birthday cake graced the center of the table in honor of the oracle's birthday which is Saturday. Neighbor Mesenbrink, the oracle, then read a verse dedicated in her honor. Coffee cake and coffee was then served.

At the close of the refreshments, bunco was played. There was a full house and the neighbors hope to see each other there again at the next meeting. Mrs. Steinbeck was initiated again.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Keleher entertained relatives from Valparaiso, Indiana Sunday, also Mr. and Mrs. George Keleher and Mr. and Mrs. Francis of Chicago. Great Grandma Keleher returned to Chicago Tuesday after spending a few days with them.

"Chuck" was out for an hour on Monday and boys he was sorry he couldn't see you all but his time was limited, but he is coming back in a short time.

The circus in town Tuesday was attended by grownups as well as little ones and all enjoyed it.

Little Anna May Stockman had a close call from losing her eye last Friday when in closing a screen door the door spring flew off, hitting her in the eye. Luckily she will be O. K.

Fred Hick reports a good time and will be back this week.

Clemens' entertained guests from Tampa, Florida and Chicago Tuesday. Wednesday Mrs. Clemens went to Wilmette to visit her mother.

All friends and neighbors will be glad to welcome Mrs. C. A. Steinhagen back when she returns Friday after several weeks stay in Aurora where she has been assisting in taking care of a sick aunt who has passed away.

Dr. and Mrs. Fred Swisher from Denver, Colorado have been visiting here with the formers brother John and family. Dr. Swisher has been conducting clinics at the dental convention held in Chicago.

Other guests at the Swisher home have been Miss Olive Nevins, Minneapolis, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hyde of London, Canada, the latter being a sister of Mrs. Swisher.

Mrs. Jennie Fulton entertained the following at her home 15th and Central Ave., Tuesday, August 22nd. Her grand daughter, Coretta Siemsen of Tinley Park and her girl chum, Marjory Miner of New York, Eleanor Wheeler of Oak Forest, and Eleanor's girl chum Jean Oxman of Chicago. Mrs. Fulton's two daughters, Cora Siemsen and Clara May-fing both of Tinley Park were also present.

Twenty-five points of Bunco were played and several games and contests were entered in. All the winners received prizes but the grand sweep stakes went to Marjory Miner. Dinner and supper was enjoyed by all. The girls said they sure had an outing. At this writing we have not been informed who the winner was in the shower bath contest.

Rev. Ernest C. Barkow of Swan-ville, Minnesota, brother of Mrs. A. Buddenhagen and Mrs. Ida Hoferer of Creighton, Nebraska, sister of Rev. A. Buddenhagen are visiting in the Rev. Buddenhagen home.

Miss Bernice Ganzer of Moline, Illinois, is visiting with Edna Bormet for two weeks.

Mrs. Anna Paddock, aged 86 years, aunt of Mrs. C. A. Steinhagen, died at Aurora last Friday. The funeral was held Monday. The deceased fell and broke her hip in May and has been confined to bed since. She was a sister of the late Wm. Sippel of Orland.

In Memoriam

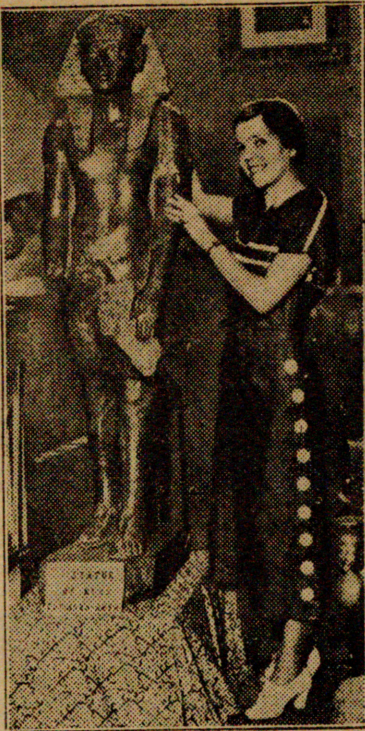

UTHE—Marie nee Rauch. A tribute of love to the memory of our dear wife and mother who passed away 2 years ago, August 6th, 1931

We mourn for you, dear mother, Though not with outward show;

For the heart that mourns sincerely, Mourns silently and low.

LOVING HUSBAND, SON AND DAUGHTER.

Egypt at Fair

King Tut-Ankh-Amen doesn't seem much excited over the charms of pretty Marguerite Bremer, New Orleans visitor to the Chicago World's Fair—A Century of Progress. This statue of the ruler who lived more than three thousand years ago is in the Egyptian Pavilion.

FRANKFORT

The Ladies Aid Society of St. Peter's Evangelical church will hold its regular business meeting and birthday coffee in the church parlors, Thursday, August 31st.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kohlhagen and son and Mrs. Floyd Langkau are spending the week in Algonquin, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Clark have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Trexler from Mattoon, Ill.

Mrs. Chas. Landon, of Durham, North Carolina, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Knight.

Irving Knight, Clarence Klepper, Chester Pfaff, Clarence Heisner, Robert Mitchell and Raymond Smith were on a fishing trip over the week end.

Frankfort folks attending the World's Fair last Friday were: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Knight, and family. Clarence Heisner, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Mitchell and family, Florence Scher Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hossbach, and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Trexler, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wischhover and family and Clarence and Robert Klepper.

Waltz Night at Mokena, Sept., 4th

The big attraction at the Mokena Men's Club Pavilion on Labor Day Evening will be the Waltz Night being sponsored by the Mokena Volunteer Fire Department.

News Among the Churches

Orland Park Churches

CHRIST LUTHERAN CHURCH
143rd & 100th Street,
Orland Park, Illinois.
Rev. A. Lach, Pastor.

Bible hour and Sunday school at 9 a. m.
Preaching services at 10 a. m.
On the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month our preaching services are conducted in English. On the 1st 3rd and 5th Sundays, German.
Strangers are always welcome!

ORLAND PARK M. E. CHURCH
John W. Mullen, Pastor.
10:00 a. m. Church School. Geo. Munch, Superintendent.

FRANKFORT M. E. CHURCH
C. F. Schellhase, Pastor.

Miss Eva Jean Pfaff, Organist.
Mr. Wesley Hollstein, Sunday School Superintendent.
German Service at 8:30 a. m.
Divine Worship at 9:00 a. m. Subject, "The Gate to the Gospel."
Sunday School at 10:00 a. m.

GREEN GARDEN M. E. CHURCH
C. F. Schellhase, Pastor.
Miss Emma Andres, organist.
Mr. Edwin Bettenhausen, Sunday school supt.

Sunday School at 9:15 a. m.
Divine worship at 10:15 a. m. Subject, "God."
Special music by the choir.
Due to the Chicago Northwest Conference, which will convene August 23 at the Clifton Fowler M. E. Church, Chicago, there will be no Divine Worship at the Green Garden and Frankfort M. E. Churches on August 27th.

ST. PETER'S EVAN. CHURCH
Rev. G. Gerhold, pastor
German Service at 8:00 a. m.
Bible School at 9:00 a. m.
English Service at 10 a. m. Central Standard Time.
There will be special music for the Sunday morning service.

MOKENA CHURCHES

MOKENA M. E. CHURCH
Ralph M. Gray, pastor.

ST. MARY CATHOLIC CHURCH
Rev. Father Roman, O. F. M.
Mass 1st Sunday in month 7 to 9 a. m. Other Sundays 9 a. m.

Things To Come

Forecast Submitted By Bertha Mae Bliss

Around Sept. 7 we should see why Mrs. Roosevelt's visit to the mines was successful in creating peace and harmony among the workers.

We can look for more employment around early spring months and to a degree this fall when men will be employed to work on railroad bridges and in some cases where new bridges will replace old ones, also where new branch lines will be built requiring bridges.

In the Spring there will be considerable demand for shelled corn for a new experiment. This might be encouraging to the farmers that have had trouble with chinch bugs and the corn is not good for feeding purposes, but classed as second would do for this new experiment.

Amateur Gardeners To Exhibit at The World's Fair

All amateur gardeners will have an opportunity to exhibit flowers from their gardens at a Century of Progress flower show Sept. 4 to 10. Sponsored by the Men's Garden club of Chicago, a summer flower show will be held in the Horticultural building in which classes will be provided for all flowers now in bloom in gardens of the Chicago area.

In order to maintain a display thruout the period, the show will be divided into two parts, the first lasting from Sept. 5 to 7 inclusive and the second from Sept. 8 to 10 inclusive. Entries may be made in either or both periods, in any class; there will be duplicate judging and awards in each period. Entries by members of the Men's Garden Club will be judged separately from non-members entries, with separate ribbons and medals.

There is no fee required from exhibitors, and the flower show committee of the Men's Garden Club of which Arthur F. Bronwell is chairman will provide containers for all flowers, except those arranged in special bowls and baskets; and will stage all entries in the show.

To Hold Clinic

A clinic for crippled children and adults will be held in the Public Health Council rooms in Joliet on Wednesday, August 30th. Hours will be from 8:30 to 12 a. m.

Anticipate your printing needs

THE MEN

Get a Break at Last Beautiful Gent's Ring Given Away at the Dance at Mokena Pavilion
Sat. Night, Aug. 26th

Music by Sammy Berk and his Rhythm Kings
GENTS 40 CENTS LADIES FREE

Coming
Community Sound Movies
Saenger Hall, Tinley Park 8 p. m.
Friday and Saturday, August 25-26
ALL TALKING PICTURES
CHARLES MURRAY in CLANCY IN WALL ST.
8 reel comedy

QUICK TRIGGER LEE 7 reel Western BIRTH OF A NATION
13 reel masterpiece

Also short subjects and comedies.

10 CENTS TO ALL

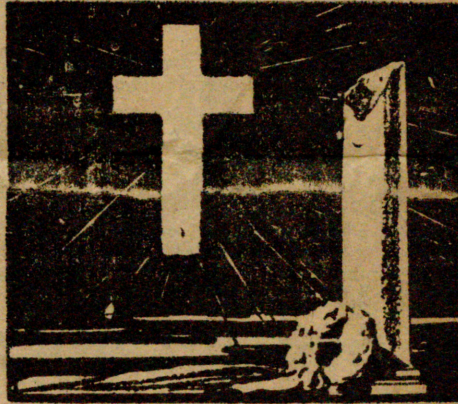

FUNK & ADLER

Funeral Directors
OAK FOREST, ILL.

A Service of Dignity and Quality
Is Always Assured when We Have The Opportunity of Serving in the Hour of Sorrow.

Mr. William Funk

will be glad to serve personally the needs of the community in those hours when dignified, respectful service from an old friend is most appreciated

To Call
Mr. Funk

Phone Tinley Park 22-W1

LIVERY AMBULANCE

You Cannot Afford To Put Off Repainting Your Home!

It requires 5 1-2 Gallons of our High Standard Lowe
Brothers Paint

to cover two coats, a house 28x30 with a half pitch roof, 12 foot side walls, and two end gables-excluding porches and dormers.

We are making

A Special Fall Offer

On High Standard Outside Paint, Enough Paint for the Above House:

5 1-2 Gallons
PLAIN COLORS

$16.25

We carry a complete stock of Lowe Brothers paint, white lead, linseed oil, turpentine, and brushes.

I. N. R. Beatty Lumber Co.

ORLAND PARK
TELEPHONE 81

TINLEY PARK
TELEPHONE 44